Eisenhower Signs Vote Rights Act

Keeping In Touch With Situation In Arkansas Dispute

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law the history-making civil rights bill empowering the federal government to enforce the right to vote with court injunctions.

The President put his signature to the bill—the first such legislation in 80 years—at his desk at his vacation headquarters here at 8:10 a.m.

Eisenhower's action came against the background of the school integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark. but the measure—primarily the right-to-vote bill—has no direct bearing on that dispute.

Would Repeal Old Law
It would repeal a post-Civil War era law authorizing the President to use troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases. But administration officials obviously feel Eisenhower has other powers.

The President instructed aides to keep him posted on any developments in the integration case.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told a news conference here the Justice Department plans to submit to U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies in Little Rock the report he asked on the integration crisis there. Hagerty said the report would be handed to Davies later in the day.

The civil rights bill was passed by Congress a day before it adjourned Aug. 30, after the historic struggle lasting through the 1957 session.

Passage of the measure was the major action of the session. It also was a significant victory for the President even though his original proposals were rewritten by the Democratic-controlled Congress to remove or soften some of the far-reaching provisions.

Aside from the broad new powers to enforce voting rights, the bill would:

Establish a six-member presidential commission to make a two-year study in the civil rights field.

Provide for a new assistant attorney general to head and strengthen the civil rights division in the Justice Department.

Repeal a Reconstruction era law authorizing a president to use troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases.

Negatives Could Serve
Eliminate the requirement that federal court jurors be qualified under the laws of states in which they serve. This is designed to make certain that Negroes can serve on federal juries.

The congressional debate and victory for the bill are certain to have political repercussions for a long time.

Republicans made it clear they expected to profit at the polls in areas where minority groups are an important factor. GOP lawmakers emphasized that they provided the bulk of the votes for the bill.

Young Convicts Caught, Trained By Bloodhounds

NEW WAVERLY, Tex. (AP)—A group of bloodhounds from the Huntsville State Prison treed their quarry yesterday.

The dogs trailed two escaped teenage convicts through a wooded area south of the prison and led officers to where the youths were covered in a tree near here.

The pair, Jerry Oakley, 17, and Billie Phillips, 17, surrendered without a struggle. Oakley is serving four years for burglary and Phillips is serving five years for robbery.

Stevenson Seen Receptive Toward Making Third Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some influential Democrats are speculating that Adlai E. Stevenson may be working himself into a receptive mood toward a third presidential nomination.

Stevenson said last December, after his second defeat by President Eisenhower, "I will not run again for the presidency." He did not embellish this statement.

There is every evidence that at the time Stevenson meant exactly what he said. There is no concrete evidence he has changed his mind since.

He said again yesterday he will not be a candidate in 1960. And he added, under questioning in a

Lodge Looks For Hungary To Be Freed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge says he is confident the United Nations will approve a resolution that will help bring on what he called the inevitable liberation of Hungary.

A special U.N. General Assembly session beginning tomorrow will be asked to approve a U.S. resolution condemning the Soviet Union for suppressing the Hungarian revolt.

"I think we're going to get a good vote," he said yesterday in a radio-TV interview (NBC Meet the Press).

The United Nations has already approved one resolution condemning Russia's part in the revolution.

The special session before the regular Assembly meeting begins Sept. 17 will debate a five-nation committee report on the uprising severely criticizing Russia.

Lodge said the second resolution was being offered in the debate because "we hope to keep the issue alive."

"We hope that by doing that we will help all the forces that are working in the long pull for liberation," he added.

"We don't think that passage of this resolution will mean that the Soviet army will be out tomorrow, but neither do we think they are going to be there forever. And in the liberation of Hungary, which we think is inevitable some day, we think the United Nations resolution will play a part."

Stassen Says Talks Failure

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Stassen returned today from the arms talks in London and said that the Western nations and the Soviet Union are "considerably closer than ever before" on the disarmament question.

Stassen, head of the American delegation of the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee, arrived by plane from London where the subcommittee recessed its sessions without an agreement after five months of negotiations.

Since the London meetings had not culminated in an agreement, Stassen said, the talks could be declared "a failure."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some influential Democrats are speculating that Adlai E. Stevenson may be working himself into a receptive mood toward a third presidential nomination.

Stevenson said last December, after his second defeat by President Eisenhower, "I will not run again for the presidency." He did not embellish this statement.

There is every evidence that at the time Stevenson meant exactly what he said. There is no concrete evidence he has changed his mind since.

He said again yesterday he will not be a candidate in 1960. And he added, under questioning in a television interview, that a suggestion he might be drafted is "preposterous."

But a prominent Democratic senator who was active in Stevenson's 1956 campaign said he has become convinced that unless some other Democrat develops unexpected strength, Stevenson is likely to become available again.

The senator, who asked that his name not be used, mentioned Stevenson's recent six-week tour of Europe and Africa. He said he regards that tour as one of the signs the former candidate is keeping himself abreast of world developments to be ready for anything that might happen in the future.

Fair Weather Due For Area

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Rain ending Tuesday followed by clearing in afternoon with generally fair weather indicated for the remainder of the period. Locally heavy amounts of rainfall expected tonight and Tuesday morning east of the mountains.

Temperatures for the period will average several degrees above normal with a slow warming trend Tuesday through Saturday.

Maine Votes On Changing Election Date

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Maine will decide at the polls today whether to continue the state's famed early election or conform with the rest of the nation.

The question of whether to keep the present election date of the second Monday in September or change it to the November election date prevalent elsewhere is one of the five questions facing the voters.

Proponents of a November election say two elections are expensive and cut the turnout of voters. Those who want to retain September say the date divorces state and national issues, avoiding confusion and is an invaluable source of free publicity.

The September voting date, giving rise to the state's boast that "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," originally was chosen because it came at a convenient time for farmers—between early and late harvests.

The minority Democrats generally favor the change to November, but Republicans seem to be split.

Texas Man, 21, Loses In Russian Roulette

RICHMOND, Tex. (AP)—Benny Miranda, 21, lost a game of Russian roulette yesterday on his first try.

Deputy Sheriff W. A. Potter said Miranda and his two cousins decided to play the game and Miranda was first. Potter said the youth slipped one shell into a .22-caliber pistol, placed it at his head and pulled the trigger. He died 10 hours later.

Quarles Asserts U. S. Will Win In Missile Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, said today he is confident "we will not be outdistanced" in the race to develop an intercontinental missile.

Quarles said in a speech prepared for the United States Conference of Mayors that this country "does not expect to be beaten in this ballistic missile race."

However, he cautioned against any American complacency, saying, "The danger isn't that we will be attacked today, but that we will so lower our guard that we might be attacked tomorrow."

Nasser Says Red Threat 'Phony'

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser said today, "The real aim of United States policy in regard to Syria is to relieve pressure on Israel."

In an interview with editor Mohammed Hassanein Heikal of the newspaper Al-Ahram, Nasser accused the United States of fabricating a Communist threat in the Middle East to break up Arab unity.

"The real aim of United States policy in regard to Syria is to relieve the pressure on Israel and turn the spotlight away to other areas," Nasser said. "In other words, Israel lies at the root of the current American campaign against Syria."

Nasser said Syria has not turned Communist. He insisted the United States knows this.

"The United States is in a position to know everything about Syria," Nasser said. "Thus it is inconceivable that there can be a wrong judgment regarding Syria to the extent suggested by American officials."

AEC Reports Reds Explode Second Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia set off another atomic weapon test explosion in the last two days, the Atomic Energy Commission announced today.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss in a statement announcing detection of the blast, said the shot was of moderate intensity.

He said it appeared to be the second in a series started Aug. 22. The Aug. 22 shot, reported here the following day, was described as one of substantial power.

The AEC announcement of that shot said it represented a resumption of testing at the Soviet's Siberian proving grounds.

Including the test reported today, the AEC has announced detection of 25 Soviet nuclear blasts.

It has been emphasized by the AEC, however, that not all of the blasts known to have been set off are publicly reported. Strauss has said announcements are made only when there are circumstances of special interest.

The Aug. 22 shot apparently was reported as the opener in a new test series.

There was nothing to indicate what put the test reported today in the special circumstances category.

Prior to the August test, the latest previous nuclear blast reported from the Soviet Union was on April 18.

"Within the past two days the Soviets have fired a nuclear weapon of moderate intensity."

"This appears to be the second test of the series which began on Aug. 22."

Soviet Hits Bonn Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union yesterday accused the West German government of "leading Germany along a dangerous path."

The accusation was made in a note to the Bonn government once more rejecting West Germany's demand for free elections to reunite the divided country.

The Soviet note was delivered a week before West Germany's parliamentary elections.

In Bonn, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said the note was designed to support the opposition Social Democrats in the elections. He said he did not think the note would help the Socialists.

U. S. Arms Airlifted For Jordan Buildup

By ANGELO NATALE
AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—The first U.S. arms were flown here today to begin a Middle East buildup against any threat from pro-Soviet Syria.

Jordanian officials and other dignitaries were on hand to greet the convoy of eight Globemasters and Flying Boxcars bringing recoilless rifles, jeeps, machine guns and ammunition.

Five Air Force Globemasters were the first to arrive over Amman. They circled the city before landing at Amman's Military Airport just after noon.

Eight jeeps mounted with recoilless rifles rolled from each of the five Globemasters. Another Globemaster and two flying boxcars followed.

The airlift is nicknamed "Operation Good Hope." The five Globemasters came to Amman after an overnight stop in Doha, Qatar. They came from Dover, Del., Air Force Base. They did not fly over Syria or Israel. Their route was from Wheelus Air Force Base, Libya, to Khartoum, and then to Doha, where the five planes rendezvoused.

Bolli Moscow and Syria charged that the United States was plotting an attack on Syria, next door to Jordan.

In Cairo, the morning newspaper El Shabaab accused the United States of planning to blow up Western-owned oil pipelines in Syria to provide an excuse for an armed attack on that country.

"The new American scheme is to instigate certain Syrian reactionary elements to blow up oil pipelines running across Syrian territory," Al Shabaab said. "This would afford a pretext to Iraq to launch an armed attack on Syria on a plea of protecting its vital oil interests."

"In the event of Iraq being reluctant to do so, America herself would interfere, in which case she would have to do so in collusion with Israel."

Claim Britain Opposes
The paper added that Britain opposed the plan while Iraq, Turkey and Lebanon were reluctant to participate. Al Shabaab said Jordan and Israel were willing to join the scheme.

The arms, flown from U.S. depots in Europe, are part of a 10-million-dollar military aid program. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Adlai Shook By Arkansas Governor's Use Of Soldiers

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said he is distressed and surprised at Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas for using National Guardsmen to prevent school integration in Little Rock.

Stevenson, in a nationally televised interview yesterday, said Faubus has supplied "grist for the Communist propaganda mill" by his anti-integration actions.

"I was deeply distressed and surprised by my friend Gov. Faubus' action in this matter," Stevenson said on the news show Face the Nation.

"It was not necessary to preserve peace and order (and) will be grist for the Communist propaganda mill."

The twice-defeated Democratic presidential candidate termed "inexplicable" the Arkansas governor's action and said ordering out the National Guard increased tension in Little Rock.

Stevenson said he does not advocate the use of force to bring about compliance with the Supreme Court's school integration order.

But he added that he "applauded and congratulated" President Eisenhower for his statement that he would do everything in his power to see that the Constitution is upheld.

Debbie Brings Rain To Seaboard States

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The 150 m.p.h. winds of Hurricane Carrie remained far out in the Atlantic today while a tropical storm, Debbie, now little more than a heavy rain, moved across North Carolina toward Virginia.

The season's third hurricane was located about 1,200 miles east of San Juan. It is moving west-northwest at about 10 m.p.h. and is expected to continue this course and speed for the next 12 hours.

Carrie packs winds up to 150 m.p.h. near its center with hurricane force winds extending out 75 miles to the north and 50 miles to the south.

The hurricane today "will increase slightly in size but will not change in intensity," the Weather Bureau reported.

"This is a severe hurricane and vessels in its path should exercise caution," the advisory continued. "There is no immediate threat to any land areas."

Debbie, which blew up in the Gulf of Mexico Saturday, is moving toward north Georgia toward Virginia at about 15 m.p.h. and should reach central Virginia tomorrow.

Small craft warnings are displayed from south of Block Island, R.I., to Savannah, Ga., for fresh and occasionally strong winds.

Cuban Coast Under Guard

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Warplanes and Navy ships today patrolled Cuba's long coastline to guard against rebel landings from Mexico.

Reports reaching here from Mexico said Cubans there were preparing to send supplies and men to the rebels of Fidel Castro holed up in the mountains of eastern Cuba.

It was from exile in Mexico that Castro came last December with 81 men to challenge the government of President Fulgencio Batista. They were beaten in battle and scattered to the mountains.

Red Jet Captain Says U. S. Craft 'Shadowed' Him

LONDON (AP)—The captain of a Soviet jet airliner says two U.S. bombers tried to shadow his plane on its return from the United States but he ran away from both of them.

Moscow radio did not identify the types of bombers other than to say they were four-engine.

The broadcast said the TU104 returned to Moscow from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., in 11 hours 13 minutes flying time for the 5,570-mile flight.

But he added that he "applauded and congratulated" President Eisenhower for his statement that he would do everything in his power to see that the Constitution is upheld.

White Boys Push Negro Group Back

Adults Join Fight And Prevent Entry Into High School

By The Associated Press
White pupils repulsed efforts of Negroes to enter North Little Rock, Ark. High School today and in neighboring Tennessee Negro pupils were escorted into a grammar school by police through lines of threatening whites.

Six Negroes attempted to enter North Little Rock High, across the Arkansas River from integration-torn Little Rock where armed National Guardsmen on orders of Gov. Orval Faubus have balked integration since last Monday despite federal court orders.

About 10 white pupils met the Negroes on steps leading into the school, hustled them down the steps and across the campus to a street. Six policemen on guard at the school, which opened for the fall term today, broke up the melee.

Then the Negroes, behind white school Supt. F. B. Wright, tried again. The white pupils were reinforced by belligerent adults, one man shouting "they shall not pass." Wright gave up efforts to gain entry for the Negroes as 150 white persons surged around them.

There were angry shouts but no violence as Nashville police escorted Negro pupils to integrated classes for the first time at Glenn G. R. m. a. r. School. Pro-segregationist picket lines failed to bar their entry. There were minor disturbances at four other Nashville schools where integration proceeded.

While state militiamen maintained an around-the-clock vigil at Little Rock's Central High School, Gov. Orval Faubus, who ordered the troops to arms, said last night: "I sincerely hope no one gets shot."

That was Faubus' answer during a televised interview when a newsman asked what would happen if federal authorities tried to escort Negro students through the troops.

It was a week ago tonight that Faubus ordered the Arkansas National Guard to ring the 2,000-pupil, all-white school. He said then, and repeated last night, that he took that action to prevent violence.

Asked how the deadlock between state and federal governments could be broken, the governor said federal authorities must make a more realistic attitude.

"Does this mean the federal government will have to recede from its demand for immediate integration?" a newsman asked.

"I can see no alternative," Faubus replied.

Claims He's Liberal
The governor told newsmen after the televised interview was over: "I've been the most liberal governor in the South, but they can't come in and cram it (integration) down our throats."

While the stalemate continued at Little Rock, school officials in Nashville, Tenn., urged parents to send their children to classes today and accept the first day of integration with calmness and order. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

American Held By Reds Says He Was CIA Agent

LONDON (AP)—A U. S. civilian imprisoned in Communist China on spy charges has been quoted by visiting Americans as saying he worked for the Central Intelligence Agency.

The British news agency Reuters reported in a Peking dispatch yesterday that five U.S. students said the statement was made to them in a Peking prison visit with Richard Fecteau, 30, of Lynn, Mass.

A spokesman for the CIA in Washington refused to comment. The prisoner's mother Mrs. Philip D. Fecteau has denied that he worked for the CIA.

Fecteau and John Downey, 27, of New Britain, Conn., both civilian employees of the Army, disappeared on a flight from Korea to Japan in 1952. The Communists repeatedly have accused them of working for the CIA.

Fecteau was sentenced to 20 years and Downey to life imprisonment. The Communists asserted they were shot down over Manchuria while dropping supplies to agents there. The United States has denied this.

He was quoted as saying he

Officer Faces Bribery Charge

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gary L. Evans, 27-year-old patrolman, will receive a further hearing Sept. 18 on a charge of accepting a $10 bribe from a North Carolina motorist he had stopped for speeding.

William Moore Jr. of Washington, N. C., told police the incident occurred Friday night after Evans stopped him in southwest Baltimore. Moore said he had picked up a car in Baltimore and was driving it back to North Carolina for the automobile agency for which he works.

Evans was held in solitary confinement for 2½ years before he was sentenced.

"It was pretty tough," he said. "There was no one to talk to, nothing to read and nothing to do. I got a nervous tic but that has gone now. I think the general practice is to be rough on prisoners before the sentence and lenient afterward. The treatment is fine now."

Fecteau said there had been no organized attempt to make him a Communist.

Fecteau said he had nothing to tell the press except "to get me out of here."

Downey, described as sunbaked and with cropped hair, was quoted as saying he was convinced it is wrong to believe the Communist government of China is only a passing phase and that Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek will retake the mainland.

Both prisoners seemed to be in good health, the visitor said. The two are in separate cells, each shared with one English-speaking Chinese prisoner.

Miss America Planning To Complete Education

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—What is Marilyn Elaine Van Derbur, the new Miss America, like?

The 20-year-old blonde, green-eyed beauty from Denver, Colo., told newsmen at a breakfast press conference on the beach yesterday that:

Her main interest is completing her college education in music, and she plans to use the $5,000 scholarship that goes with the title toward that goal.

She'd like to work in music on the stage for a year or two after college and hopes to get married when she's 24. After marriage, she wants to continue her work in music.

She likes to swim, train and ride horses, ski, and adores tailored clothes. Her favorite colors are green and blue.

She has no steady boy friend, thinks singer Perry Como is tops, admires singer Jane Froman and likes steaks medium-rare.

She admits to having been a "brat" as a child and said she used to spy on a sister's parties. She thinks the father should be the head of the family.

As might be expected, Miss Van Derbur thinks the Miss America pageant offers wonderful opportunities to a girl.

The dimpled beauty queen, who stands 5 feet 8½, weighs 130 pounds and measures 35-25-36, was crowned Saturday night by the outgoing Miss America, Marian Ann McKnight of Manning, S. C., before a nationwide television audience and a crowd of 20,000 in Convention Hall.

Although she got only an hour's sleep after the Coronation ball, she looked fresh and radiant as she greeted newsmen and photographers the following morning. "I feel wonderful," she said.

Immediately after the press conference, she was whisked off to New York City to start her reign.

The new beauty queen, a University of Colorado junior who had her debut last year, has three sisters.

sonville, Fla. Two to four inches of rain fell across most of northern Florida into Georgia.

The rain was expected to end in parts of Georgia and South Carolina but probably will continue over the mid-Atlantic Coast states and spread northward to southern New England. Thunder showers were indicated in Florida.

Dr. Mary Walker, one of the first women to wear pants and other masculine clothing in public, was awarded the Medal of Honor for her services as a physician in the War Between the States.

Rain spread over wide areas of the Southeast today as remnants of the tropical storm Debbie moved slowly northeastward after spreading into Georgia during the night.

The precipitation extended as far west as the Mississippi River in southeastern Missouri and as far north as Kentucky and Virginia. Rainfall amounts were heavy near the center of the advancing low pressure in northeast Georgia and parts of South Carolina.

Heaviest wind gusts reported were 60 m.p.h. yesterday at Jacksonville.

der. Under a court-approved plan for gradual integration, Negro first-graders were eligible to attend white schools in Nashville.

Pro-segregation leaders, however, called on Nashville parents to keep their children at home.

The problem of integration also had school officials at Dallas, Tex., busy. A federal court has given them four months to mix 17,000 Negroes into the school system of 117,000. A judge ordered both sides in the long legal battle to present the first steps of their integration plans in court today.

President Eisenhower, who has told Faubus he will do everything he can to uphold the U.S. Constitution in the Little Rock controversy, conferred with Atty. Gen. Brownell by telephone. Brownell informed Eisenhower that an FBI report on the facts probably would be filed with the federal court in Little Rock today.

Press secretary James Hagerty said the FBI report will contain information from Faubus on which the governor based his claim that violence was expected.

A PENNY SAVED IS A PENNY EARNED

This famous adage is just as true today as it was when first formulated. We are all having trouble making those dollars stretch these days, so it is necessary to save money where we can. Thus, when sudden illness strikes and unexpected doctor and medicine bills appear, it can be a real jolt to the family budget. We think you are in for a big surprise at how low medicine bills can be if you have never had a Walsh-McCagh prescription. There is no secret behind our extra low prescription prices. It is the low overhead, quantity buying, and rapid turnover that the chain grocery stores have made such a great success. Our prices are set in advance, so that we can as easily tell you the price of your prescription before it is filled as afterwards, and we like to do it that way. Why not bring us your next prescription; you can pay more, but you can't receive better prescription service anywhere.

Delinquency Authorities Seek Practical Methods

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland authorities on juvenile delinquency gathered here today in search of ways to put their theories into practice.

Delegates to the third annual governor's Conference on Juvenile Delinquency met on the University of Maryland campus for a three-day session aimed at providing practical means of implementing their recommendations of last year.

At that time the conference proposed 14 methods of combating teen-age tendencies toward crime. Those recommendations were broad and involved a wide range of community action.

Delegates include representatives of service clubs, parent-teacher groups, labor and industry, youth organizations, the clergy, probation officers, social workers and members of the legal and medical professions.

The conference is sponsored by the Maryland Commission for the Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency.

Baltimorean Captures State Archery Title

FREDERICK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Russell Collins of Baltimore's Patapsco Bowmen captured the Maryland archery championship today in the state's biggest tournament of its kind.

Collins, compiling 1,306 points over a two-day stretch, took top laurels in a meet which saw more than 400 men, women and children competing. Sponsored by the Association of Maryland Bow Hunters, the event was held at the Tuscarora Archery Club range near Frederick.

Dick Wear of Gaithersburg finished behind Collins with 1,224 and Harry Kirkley of the Harford Bowmen, defending champion, was third.

Marsha Faye Main of Frederick won the women's title with 857 as Viola Jindra, Baltimore's 1956 champion, was the runner-up with 720.

Bill Marshall of Silver Spring piled up 1,075 to triumph in the competition for boys 16 and under. Team championships went to the Baltimore Archers, 4,448, in the men's division, and Tuscarora, 2,638, in the women's.

It was the sixth meet sponsored by the Maryland association.

City Firemen Fight Several Grass Blazes

City firemen were plagued by grass fires over the weekend.

Yesterday East Side firemen made a trip to Shade's Lane at 1:30 a. m. and also checked another call at Shade's Lane shortly after noon.

Central, volunteers from Baltimore Pike, and forestry personnel were on the scene of a grass fire at 1:45 p.m. at Golden Lane off Willowbrook Road.

Saturday was a busy day. West Side went to Lynn Street and Patterson Avenue at 12:52 p.m. and extinguished a grass fire.

At 3:22 p.m. East Side was called to the 1000 block of Shade's Lane to fight a grass fire, but had to have the assistance of Central firemen, who went to the scene 10 minutes later.

City Police Detective Thomas J. See said two boys aged seven and eight admitted that they had set the fire while playing with matches.

At 6:07 p.m. East Side, which really had a workout over the weekend, went to Smith's Gardens located across the highway from Shade's Lane, where they checked a grass fire.

They went back to the same place at 8:22 p.m. East Side firemen had a change of pace at 10:36 p.m. Saturday when gas was reported leaking from a kitchen appliance at 310 Harrison Street.

Central firemen checked a grass fire at Shade's Lane at 10:53 p.m. Saturday.

"I know I need more Life Insurance, but how can I afford it?"

HAVE you ever had this thought? Have you ever wondered how your wife could keep the family together if something should happen to you? This question faces most men while their children are growing up.

We believe that you will find the answer to this question in the Metropolitan Family Income Plan. This plan is designed to furnish the extra income needed to take care of your children until they have finished their education or are getting started in life.

The plan combines regular insurance with a special income provision which can be fitted to your particular circumstances and family needs. Here are some of its important features:

1. You choose the amount of monthly income needed—$100 a month, $200, $300 or more.
2. If you should die at any time within 20 years—while your children are growing up—the Metropolitan Family Income Plan will provide the income you arrange to be paid to your family each month for the remainder of the 20 years. Then the face amount of the policy will be paid in cash.
3. If you should live beyond 20 years, when the income provision is no longer in effect, your family will still have continuing protection for the face amount of the policy.

For your own peace of mind, why not get the complete details of the Family Income Plan from your Metropolitan Representative? He will be more than happy to explain it to you, and demonstrate that . . .

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of Explosion Coming?

THE UNITED STATES had to find out after the Korean War ended whether or not it could sustain a prosperous economy without the extremely heavy federal spending required for defense in wartime. It learned that it could keep levels high even in days of peace. Now the country is faced with still a tougher test, one indeed that could be the toughest since the depression of the 1930's. The question: "Can the United States maintain prosperity with full employment and expanding output without serious inflation?" For a substantial period during and after the Korean War, inflationary tendencies were held within reasonable bounds. But in recent times the spiral has been twisting upward with alarming speed.

THE EISENHOWER administration, watching this spectacle with real apprehension, is plagued by the dilemma which besets all governments in this age. That is how to control inflation without inducing deflation and perhaps major depression. Government applies the brakes—moderately, seeking to tighten the money supply which helps feed inflation. But it fears to press down too hard. This might affect economic activity in major fields, and foster unemployment. Consequently, a middle course is being followed. And, as we have seen, the evidence to date suggests that this will not in fact check inflation. Prices and wages continue to rise. The danger signals are many. In this predicament, President Eisenhower appeals again to all Americans to apply their own set of brakes. He wants them to "buy carefully," which in translation means he wants them to buy less. For money saved and not spent is money taken out of the inflation pipeline.

SO FAR, HOWEVER, Americans eager to lift their level of living to a constantly higher plane have not restrained their spending urges very seriously. The pressure to get and to spend more money is tremendous. Will the pressure—neither uncontrolled nor effectively controlled—finally build to an explosion that could do heavy damage to the economy and the buying power of the American people? Nobody knows, naturally. And while they contemplate the prospect that the answer may be "yes," our economists and leaders in government, business and labor search hard for the hidden key to prosperity without inflation. Their quest is crucial to the future of free enterprise.

THE REVELATIONS of the McClellan committee of the Senate suggest that the Teamsters might almost have been called the Hoffa Beneficiary Society.

Industry's Move

ANY ECONOMIC system has its rigid features. But on balance the American free enterprise system has more flexibility than any other on earth. One proof in recent years has been the growing diversification of products turned out by many firms as a way of spreading their risks. Another of quite another sort is observable now. Companies plagued by rising costs have switched away from owning to renting many of the facilities they need. They have discovered that owning office buildings, factories, truck fleets, and even manufacturing equipment is often an unnecessary cost burden. So they sell them off and then rent back the space and the machinery they require, including truck transport. Possibly the most imaginative part of this whole trend is the leasing of factory tools. In the nature of things many producers find that substantial amounts of their equipment may lie idle for long periods of time, being needed only at limited stages of the manufacturing process. What more sensible than to give up owning such stuff and instead renting the tools only when necessary? If the renting organization can schedule use of the machinery evenly, the result will be a saving all around, and a far more economical use of the tools involved. Even if the plan has just limited application in U. S. industry, it obviously recommends itself strongly.

ONE WAY TO MAKE a fortune is to write a book telling people how to do something they do not need to do. In this era, such books will undoubtedly outsell Shakespeare.

September Bugaboo Month For Demos

WASHINGTON—It's getting so the Democratic party hates to see September come around. It's a bugaboo month.

September means the opening of school, once a happy event for parents, which most Democrats are. But now the opening of school means such episodes as those at Clinton, Tenn., and Sturgis, Ky. Last year and this year at Little Rock, Ark.

That means the eyes of the nation are turned toward the South. The South is the part of the nation identified more than any other with one political party.

That party is the Democratic party.

If September goes on this way in the South for several years, it could mean long trouble for the Democrats.

Next year, for example, November comes after September, as it always does, but November is the symbol next year of another national election, a Congressional election, as well as state elections.

November means a national election every two years, and if succeeding Septembers in the South match the last two, then September could react against the Democrats at ballot boxes in the North in November.

NOVEMBER means more than that. For what happened in Congress this year means that, in addition to school episodes in September, there very likely will be ballot box episodes around election time.

What the Supreme Court did in its school integration decision that has made trouble in the South in education, Congress did in this past session in its civil rights bill to make for trouble in politics and at the polling places in the South.

Double trouble, boil and bubble. The Southern wing of the Democratic party has not drawn so much attention to itself since the Civil War and Reconstruction. For one thing, the leadership of the Democratic party in Congress is predominantly Southern. And since the Democratic party now manages Congress, the Southern wing is constantly in the public eye.

But, beyond that and more important, the Southern wing of the Democratic party monopolized the spotlight here day after day, week after week, month after month, by its resistance to a civil rights bill. Its emasculation of that measure won the South added publicity in the voting precincts of the North, but hardly of the helpful kind.

CONGRESS barely had gotten out of town and back home, with all this still echoing, than it broke out again. The only change was the locale.

This time it was at Little Rock, where a Southern Democratic Governor took over the stage. Play by play, the nation followed the sorry spectacle.

A year ago, in Tennessee and Kentucky, the National Guard was called out to protect Negro school children from violence. This year in Arkansas, Governor Orval E. Faubus called out the National Guard to keep nine Negro children from entering a high school with 2,000 white students. He professed fear of violence which the Mayor of Little Rock scolded in no uncertain terms.

We have followed since the unbelievable script: How he defied a Federal District judge's order that integration in the Little Rock High School go forward according to the 10-year plan approved previously by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals. How he then threw National Guard troops against the Governor's mansion, too, ostensibly to protect himself from being served with papers from the Federal government.

AT THE SAME time he screamed in a telegram to President Eisenhower that somebody was plotting to arrest him which, once he had suggested it, looked like a good idea to at least one prominent citizen, Representative Kenneth B. Keating, who was one of the leaders in the fight for the Administration's civil rights bill.

What the Governor was doing was defying the United States government and its current head—President Eisenhower. While the President was having his troubles with the sand traps at Newport, where he is on vacation, his helpers here were trying to figure out what to do next.

Such a to-do—and all because a few Negro boys and girls were trying to do what the Supreme Court said three years ago they had a right to do.

The photographs tell the story graphically—young men in soldier suits, ordered out by the Governor, standing guard with full equipment to protect Southern civilization from a few Negro children; and grown men and women yelling with angry voices and hideously contorted faces, "Go home, niggers."

Not theirs to suffer little children. Trouble in September for the Democrats.

Civil Rights Fight By No Means Over

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The battle over civil rights legislation hasn't ended. It's just beginning. It will last a year or more.

Putting the new Civil Rights Act of 1957 into effect in the South can begin almost any time a qualified Negro resident wants to go to his county courthouse and register to vote.

But it will be early next year—some time after the 1958 spring primaries—before many legal test cases can be taken to court.

Sen. Richard B. Russell says the new law is unconstitutional. This indicates there may be some long trials and appeals, carrying the issue to the Supreme Court.

BEFORE THAT happens there are a number of administrative preliminaries necessary to put the new law in operation.

The President's first act will be to appoint six members and a staff director to the new Commission on Civil Rights and to name a new assistant attorney general for civil rights in the Department of Justice.

The new assistant will supervise preparation and prosecution of civil rights cases by U.S. district attorneys.

The commission will function for two years. It will investigate alleged denials of voting rights, appraise federal laws and policies on civil rights. Then it will file a report to the President and Congress and go out of business.

Both the commissioners' and the new assistant attorney general's appointments must be confirmed by the Senate. There will probably be a hassle over them.

By making recess appointments after Congress adjourns, however, the new officials could serve until the end of the next Congress in 1958, or until the Senate rejected any of their appointments.

IN MOST Southern states, registration to vote is permanent or will soon become so for citizens who have voted during the last two years.

New civil rights cases may arise, however, when new voters come in to register.

In general, registration offices are open at least one day a week up to 30 days before an election in Louisiana or six months before in Georgia.

Arkansas and Texas have no registration laws but anyone who presents a current poll tax receipt is entitled to vote. Test cases in these two states could come through an election official denying such a voter the right to vote.

In other Southern states, test cases might arise if an official denied a citizen the right to register.

Such cases would call for a federal court test. A civil injunction would be requested to require the official to register the applicant.

FOR A criminal conviction of any person willfully disobeying or obstructing any court order on civil rights, the penalty may be up to $1,000 fine and six months in prison.

For an organization disobeying a court civil rights order—like one of the white citizens' councils—penalties could be heavier.

Such a criminal proceeding can be with or without jury, at the judge's discretion.

If without jury, the maximum penalty is $300 fine and 45 days in prison.

If the sentence is heavier, the accused official may demand a new trial before a jury.

It is now considered probable that most of these court cases will grow out of denials of voting rights in the 1958 primaries and November elections.

The tests will therefore set the pattern for the 1960 presidential elections when the voting turnout will be heavier.

Glancing Sideways

MERIDIAN, Miss.—This is about 1,600 miles from Mexico City, at a rough guess, and I couldn't be happier. There is something about eating up the last miles between yourself and home that has a flavor all its own.

You are cutting toward the home lot at 60 and more miles an hour and you think of what lies ahead: New York and its never-fading wonders and excitement, a winter of theatre and the people of theatre, a house in the country with the smell of wood-smoke and the prospect of clean snow that crunches when you walk on it.

The daily report as the children come home from school and, this year, their moving on into a new social life with dances and a few mild dates—mild to us but terribly important to them.

THE PERFECT way of life, if you don't mind a little traveling every day, is to live a few miles out of New York yet be part of New York's life. To go to the theatre four or so nights a week, to sit afterward in Sardi's or the Absinthe House or in any of dozens of other places and talk theatre, Broadway and New York and all that make them what they are, and to do this until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. Then to drive casually home, without haste, and walk into a still-warmed and embracing house.

The bank still has a small option on it, but not too much. In three years or a shade less, it will be yours. That's all right, too. Banks own pieces of most of the houses you know. Houses have mortgages like the way people have hangnails. They're minor irritations, but are fine after awhile.

THIS WINTER we'll miss two dear friends. Reginald Denham and his bright, talented and beautiful wife, Mary Orr. One day late this last July they sat in their New York apartment fiddling with a play they were writing and the next they were checking passports and clothes for months in Rome.

He had signed to direct the English version of an Italian movie starring Vittorio de Sica and "The" Lolobrigida. De Sica would direct all scenes in Italian except those he was appearing in as co-star. Reggie would direct the entire English version plus such Italian-speaking scenes as de Sica was to be in.

Five months employment, salary, all expenses paid both ways and in Rome. It was the kind of sudden, unexpected and glittering thing that happens only to the happy children of show business.

WE'LL MISS them and all the others who, of a sudden and without notice, find themselves off to London or California or Spain or some dark, damp theatre, empty for the moment, in which they will rehearse a new play which, five weeks later, may bring them back to Broadway in a big, splashing way.

Young actresses we know who next week may be working in a department store to pay the rent and six weeks hence may be reading glowing notices of themselves the morning after a Broadway First Night. Agents will be telephoning and Hollywood talent scouts will be talking to them. And, a year hence, show business being what it is, they may be back in a department store or modeling or even not doing anything at all except waiting for New York's heavenly lightning to strike once again.

THE SHOW of show business is often better and more intriguing than show business itself. The private stories of how a play came to be written and produced, of how a long-forgotten actor suddenly was given a second and brighter career, the inside of how casting was arrived at; all these are often better drama and comedy than what is seen on the stages of New York theatres.

And I'm only about 1,600 miles away from it all.

And The Rest Is Silence

WASHINGTON—The cat's away, the mice are at play, and Washington as of now is a fine, old, sleepy Southern town.

I don't mean to call President Eisenhower a cat. Boss is a better word, maybe. He's up there in Rhode Island whacking up the grass under his golf ball. When he left, so did many of his underlings, all on vacations long overdue.

Congress has been gone for a week, and 100 Capitol secretaries crowded into a single airplane for a chummy trip to Florida. That's just symptomatic.

School started simultaneously around the nation and suddenly the mighty buses bringing children to Washington disappeared. Vanished also are the thousands of private sedans with license plates from far places.

AND THAT leaves the rest of us enjoying the place briefly, as of old. There are plenty of cabs cruising around empty for a change. Chances are you can get a seat in a trolley car, or even in a restaurant. I had a shine this morning without waiting my turn.

The point of all this is that now is the time, fellow citizens, really to see Washington. The weather is downright beautiful. We've had a few showers to break our summer-long drought and the grass is turning green again. Some of the trees are yellow and the dogwoods are red, as if it were autumn. The dry spell did that, but the results are pretty.

You couldn't exactly shoot a canon down Pennsylvania Avenue without hitting anybody, but neither could you get into a traffic jam. The hotel clerks once more are greeting prospective guests as long-lost brothers.

FOR THE FIRST time this season you can stroll through Mt. Vernon and actually see, not somebody else's back, but the home of G. Washington. Gelling into the White House for a long look is a cinch; two weeks ago it frequently meant a two-hour wait in line in the hot sun.

The Capitol Building is what you might call dead. The boys are shining up the place, but the Senators' refectory is open. You can drop in there anytime for lunch (hamburgers, 75 cents) and not get your toes crushed.

The time for trying eggs on the pavement is gone for the year. The air-conditioning in most of our public buildings is being turned off. The cops, getting over a frazzling summer, are especially polite.

IT JUST doesn't seem like Washington, 1937. Some youngsters from the Hollywood Citizen-News (they won a carrier boys' contest) dropped by to see me and they were disappointed. They'd seen no celebrities except John L. (Eyebrows) Lewis.

They ran into this doughtiest of labor leaders in their hotel and were impressed. He had plenty of time for a chat with the youngsters from the West.

I had to tell the boys that they'd probably seen the only celebrity now in town, with the possible exception of John Foster Dulles, and he may be gone before I can deliver this dispatch.

YOU GET THE idea. The oldest denizen of the National Press Club, where most of the members also are absent, claims our town reminds him now of the Cat Coolidge days when the Army didn't amount to much and the Department of State functioned in a few rooms across the street from the White House.

A fellow could breathe here then, said the oldest member. So you can today, if you hurry and get here before the brass hats and their helpers return.

Assignment America

NEW YORK—At some early time in every woman's life—usually around 14, when her nose stops running and her nose starts—she begins to contemplate the moon.

Now the moon, when you sit under and analyze it dispassionately, is not much. Scenically, it is considerably outclassed by the torch and the brush fire. For psychological uplift, it isn't even in the same orbit with the sun or a good, fluorescent billboard selling fuel oil.

Scarcely a man alive would give the moon the time of night, if it were not for the strange fascination it holds for women. It is cold, usually colorless, flat and remote—but girls have a thing about it, and that's that. It would be madness to try counting the number of romances that have gotten off on the right, hot foot, simply because a small pallid disc is pasted in the dark sky at the right place and the right time.

WELL; ALL THIS considered, it was most appropriate for the American Psychological Association to predict, recently, that the first trip to the moon probably will be made—not by a strapping scientist, not by a courageous young space-fiction fan—but by a small, and preferably wacky, woman.

It figures. And for the intense feminists of America to learn that one of their very omnipotent own may one day be delegated to the premiere push into space is most gratifying. It corroborates what the ladies in the back room (at the girls' gymnasium) have said all along:

"If there's a man in the moon, a woman should get first crack!"

There is one catch to this delicious situation, and that is the news that the dame who heads moonward must be—or at any rate, try to be—off her rocker. As Dr. Harold Pepinsky of Ohio State University told the society: Investigations may show that only an extremely disturbed person is likely to enjoy and endure such a trip.

He recommends a small, compact woman with brains and scholastic ability, who is also neurotic-unto-psychotic.

AS MOST sociologically-minded women in New York business could tell you, this may be one of the easiest types to locate in modern society. With the lopsided ratio of woman-over-man in today's culture, and the aggressive spirit which has beset the female sex in the last century, it is more than ever apparent that almost every woman you know is—in one desperate way or another—reaching for the moon.

It's been, until now, a large problem (and source of income) to psychiatrists hereabout, attempting to help the ladies adjust to public opinion, which is fighting to keep them in the home—but is offering them very little selection in husbands and homes to keep in.

These are the little girls who became attached to the moon, and those myriad romantic promises its dull white face traditionally throws off—who grew up and discovered "war" necessarily so, and as a consequence became spiritually unbalanced.

When the time comes for the first trip, scientists won't have much trouble finding a likely pioneer. There are plenty of women about who have reason to get back at (or to) the moon.

Angler's Body Found In Bay

TYDINGS-ON-THE-BAY, Md. (AP)—The body of Vernon Houck, 66-year-old, was found yesterday by a Coast Guard searching party in a small boat beached near here.

A search began after Houck failed to return from a fishing trip which relatives said started Saturday morning from Cape St. Claire on the Little Magdaly River. Tydings-on-the-Bay is located near Sandy Point State Park, not far from the western terminal of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

Police said there was no evidence of foul play. Mrs. Houck said her husband had been subject to heart attacks.

City To Mail Out Tax Bills This Month

City tax collector George E. Davis said today 13,000 tax bills will be mailed this month.

The bills, which have appeared previously in colors ranging from baby blue to shocking pink, will be conventional white this year. The only "shocking" thing about them is the amount which will be a few cents less than the last fiscal year.

The current tax rate will be $1.57 on each $100 of assessable property. The rate includes $1.2498 for operating expenses and .3202 cents for debt service. The tax levy is designed to raise $1,207,600 from property sources and bank stock. The other $783,230 in the budget will come from miscellaneous sources of revenue.

This year's tax rate is one cent less than last year, when the tax rate was $1.58, spread between $1.2403 for operations and .3397 for debt service. Included are all bills for real estate held by individuals and corporations and personal property of individuals.

Assessments for personal property of corporations are set by the state tax office and forwarded to the political subdivisions. Bills for such corporation taxes are mailed as soon as assessments are received each year.

Early last week, the City Tax Office mailed 200 such bills to corporations to start the 1957 collection process.

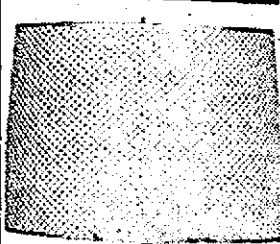

No real estate or personal property bills will be mailed until all are prepared late this month.

No discount is provided for city taxes, but they may be paid at par on or before October 23, which is a month after the levy was set.

Interest at the rate of 1/2 percent a month, dating from August 23, is charged for taxes paid after October 23.

Rabbi Lists Schedules For Holy Days This Fall

Services during the Jewish High Holydays at Beth Jacob Congregation have been announced by Rabbi Stanley Levin. Rabbi Levin said the opening service of Rosh Hashanah on New Year will begin at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, September 25. Services on the following day are set for 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. The last service at the synagogue during this three-day spiritual inventory is planned for 8 a. m. on September 27.

Services for Yom Kippur or Day of Atonement will open Friday, October 4 at 7 p. m. with the concluding exercises set for the next morning at 8 o'clock. During this 10-day period of spiritual stocktaking, Jews will mark the beginning of the religious year 5718, with prayers, hymns and meditations. At evening and morning Rosh Hashanah services and evening and all-day Yom Kippur devotions, rabbi will stress the theme of penitence and the possibilities of moral regeneration.

The holydays are inaugurated in many homes with the dipping of fruit into honey, symbolic of the prayers for a "sweet" year.

Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, declared in a special High Holyday message that "Jews have not lived up to their moral obligations unless they join in efforts to bring peace, freedom and equality to all the peoples of the world."

Hit Parade Returns With Face-Lifting, Same Mood

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Jon Probst, the new little lad of "Las Vegas," should be the biggest little boy star since Jackie Coogan & Cooper. The role's a warm, lovable little cliché.

Don Budge's tennis courtcast was delf, dandy.

Steve Lawrence sang "Day In, Day Out." The lovely Ruby Bloom-Johnny Mercer hymn to her, about as well as anyone in the crooner's trade.

George Cleveland's "Lassie" role will have to be replaced shortly; George died recently.

Jan Murray missed his Saturday show due to a recurrence of Madison Ave. complaint—ulcers.

Dennis James subbed.

The Hit Parade returned with considerable face-lifting but the mood's the same.

Seems conductor Don Walker could do better by the music than he did.

The melodies seemed trickling in from afar, as occasionally they did via pre-recordings to let the guys and gals move about.

But they had a distant, tiny, mixed-up impact.

Jill Corey came off fine, her endearing eagerness to please fairly oozing out of the NBC-TV cameras.

Virginia Gibson is pretty. Tommy Leonetti comes over a definite and attractive young personality while Alan Copeland has future weeks to make needed improvements visually and aurally.

Superimposing singers against scenery occasionally "bled" a little too obviously; the clumsy technical effect needs more attention.

Two big production numbers (Play Orchestera, Play, and Entertainment) were given sluggish projection where they should have had a big, bright fling.

The CBS-TV Miss America coverage was a dullie.

Goodyear Playhouse's "The House" was solid TV drama fare, J. C. Flippen and Hope Emerson doing nobly.

Both J. C. and Hope are ex-comics turned successfully serious. J. C. from old vaude and quiz shows and Hope from risqué piano-and-patter plaints in supper clubs.

Eddie Arcaro (Wallace Hot-seat) was a suave little millionaire.

Maurice Evans wants to gather the original Bdw, cast for "Dial M. For Murder" special.

Total of car radios now is (Nielsen says) 38,500,000, of which 6,240,000 tune in at the topmost car listening hour—Sundays.

Bing Crosby's TV spec for Edsel will cost almost a million; his half-hour weekly CBS-radio show has a price tag of $10,000.

Of 117 new TV shows last season, only 64 survived; their costs (says sponsor Mag) ranged from Playhouse 90's $117,000 to $14,500 for Lawrence Welk.

Traffic Unit Keeps Cool

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP)—To make it hot for traffic violators, first make it cool for the traffic cop.

That's the prescription here, where traffic division police taxed themselves $1 a week to buy a one-ton air conditioner for their office and a smaller one for the squad commander's office.

Similarly the men got new floors for their quarters by trimming and laying the tiles themselves.

Capt. Walter T. Weil, head of the squad, says he's sold on do-it-yourself.

September Weather

The weather maps below give the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from now until October. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of the average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

EXPECTED TEMPERATURES

September temperatures are expected to average below normal over most areas west of the Continental Divide as well as along the extreme northern border of the country, and in the far Southeast. Above-normal temperatures are anticipated over the remainder of the nation and along the California coast.

EXPECTED PRECIPITATION

Precipitation during September is expected to be above normal in the Western Mountain States, the Northern and Central Plains, the Great Lakes region, and also in the extreme Southeast. Subnormal rainfall is expected over a broad band extending from Texas northward through the Ohio Valley. In unspecified areas near-normal amounts are in prospect.

Robert R. and Norma Jean Stages to John H. and Nellie J. Tice, property in McCoole.

City Plans Shade's Lane Street Work

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz said a number of streets in the Shade's Lane area will be given light surface treatment starting this week.

He said plans call for providing light surface treatment for about 12 streets in that area to continue a program which began early this year.

The East Side work is being done in accordance with a long-range plan to get the city out of the mud.

He said he hoped by spring to virtually complete the program, and eliminate the oiling program which is expensive because it has to be done each year.

Light surface treatment consists of grading the street to a satisfactory contour. Treatment begins with a prime coat, followed by the application of from 15 to 20 pounds of stone chips to the yard.

This is penetrated by a coat of asphalt and followed by a coat of about 10 pounds to the yard of fine chips as a sealer. Rolling completes the treatment.

City Engineer C. R. Nuzum said light surface treated streets here are holding up well after several years of service. It is not a permanent surface, he added, but a "skin" treatment.

The success of the treatment, he added, depends entirely upon what is underneath.

Mr. Nuzum said the secret of maintaining light surface treated areas is to keep a close watch on them and to go back and patch them when holes appear.

He said they can be let go for several years and then renewed by applying a light seal coat.

Herma Menth, U.S. symphony concert pianist, always goes bicycle riding for an hour before each of her recitals. Says it relaxes her.

Judge Denies Prisoner Writ

A plea for a writ of habeas corpus filed in Circuit Court here by Salvatore Buscemi, a prisoner in the Maryland House of Correction, has been denied by Chief Judge George Henderson.

In 1949 Buscemi was convicted under a narcotics charge in the U. S. District Court in Baltimore and was sentenced to two years.

On November 22, 1954, he was indicted in Baltimore on five counts of "obtaining narcotics by fraud," one count of which alleged the prior conviction in the district court.

He pleaded guilty to all five counts and was sentenced to seven years, which was suspended for five years, and he was paroled.

Lecture Set At Church

Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, systematic theology professor at Gettysburg Theological Seminary, will begin his third lecture series here tomorrow under the sponsorship of the Brotherhood of St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

The professor will lecture on "The Seeds of Christendom" and the topic of his first discourse will be "Christian Science."

The lectures will be held in conjunction with the monthly dinner meetings of the Brotherhood and the tomorrow dinner session will be held at the church at 6:15 p. m.

Dr. Rasmussen is a graduate of Gettysburg College and has taken his post-graduate work at Columbia University and at the University of Pennsylvania.

Before joining the teaching staff of the Seminary in 1940, he held pastorates at Messiah Lutheran Church at Gettysburg.

Cochran HOLD-TITE House Paint

LIKE LOUVERS—IT BREATHES

Cochran Hold-Tite is a long wearing No Peel, No Blister, breather type, medium gloss, mildew and fume resistant house paint. Equal to or better than the highest quality paints on the market.

●What Happens After Painting

The places scraped or burned off and painted with Hold-Tite breathe and act as louvers or vents. The moisture present in the house comes out through these spots (louvers) in the form of vapor, drawn out by the sun. This is the same principle as if you had actually drilled holes and put louvers in your home. These spots (louvers) will help relieve the moisture pressure on the entire exterior surface of the house, even including where the old paint has not been removed. Hold-Tite acts like the human skin—lets water vapor out but does not let water in.

Hold-Tite has been used on thousands of homes for over 5 years, and has proved that it does solve blistering and peeling problems.

Old Damage Action Makes Another Move

City Council Spurns Latest Effort In Freno Settlement

Settlement of the Stephen Freno damage claims as a result of the Frederick Street improvement project went through another round today.

The Mayor and Council spurned the latest move to settle the matter and asked that an order introduced be rewritten after Auditor Arthur B. Gibson claimed the city would be left open to "unlimited liability" and that the exact figures should be spelled out.

"It seems to me," Gibson said, "that council should establish value in the whole thing before entering into an agreement." He added he felt some of the damages belong to the insurance company.

$100 From Insurance
City Attorney Thomas B. Finan pointed out the insurance company would allow only $100 toward cost of shrubbery and the like. Gibson replied that the city therefore, should not enter into an agreement since it places a responsibility which can never be closed out in regards to repairs to grading and shrubbery. He said if the insurance company is giving $100 then he felt the city would be fair in giving $1,000.

Freno's attorney, Peter J. Carpent, said other property owners' claims had been adjusted and Freno's is the only one remaining. He claimed the city has a legal responsibility since it furnished specifications to the contractor.

Carpent, at the request of Finan, said he would be willing to state that $150 would cover the cost of grading, shrubbery and replacement of back steps to the Freno property and then he added he was tired of the matter being dragged out. If nothing is done, then the only recourse is legal action, he continued. He also stated Freno had previously backed down on his original demands in order to reach a settlement.

Sidewalk In Question
Also in question is a sidewalk. The cost of this is not included in the agreement submitted this morning which created another question as far as Gibson is concerned. It was pointed out other property owners paid half the sidewalk cost or $1.57 1/2 cents a lineal foot.

Under the order submitted today, the city would have paid Freno $1,002.62, completed the sidewalk on the Frederick Street side, repaired rear steps and graded the rear of the lot. Freno in return would have given a complete release from any future liability.

The order stated it was understood Freno would pay the lien for curbing, guttering and paving the sidewalk in the amount of $469.74, plus interest.

Meet With Employees
The Mayor and Council will meet with representatives of Local 812, Municipal Employees Union, next week to discuss its request for a wage increase. The meeting will be held immediately after the regular council session Monday.

"Debbie" Effects Felt
The rain was brought to this section by a tropical disturbance known as "Debbie" and the rain fall was heavier eastward from Cumberland.

The Westernport area had only .04 of an inch and the Savage River Dam has dropped to 21 feet below the spillway. The situation as far as the supply in the huge impoundment is not critical.

R. E. Weber, official weather observer at Oakland, said only a slight drizzle fell there today. Skies are overcast and the temperature was 62 degrees at 11 a. m. Yesterday's high was 76 degrees.

Need Good Soaking
The temperature here rose to 62 degrees yesterday with sunny skies. Thermometers registered a low of 54 early today and at noon it was 57 degrees. Skies were overcast.

The forest fire danger continues in Garrett County as a good soaking is needed to alleviate the tinder-dry conditions in woodlands in that area. Eastward from Allegany County the rainfall helped cut down the forest fire danger.

68-Year-Old Faces Trial
A 68-year-old local man will be given a hearing in Juvenile Court on Friday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of six minor girls.

The warrant charging John Panch of Bellevue Street was obtained by Lt. Det. James E. Van and Det. Thomas See of the Cumberland Police Department. The man has been released under $250 bond by Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Police said the man is involved with six minor girls, ranging in age from 11 to 17 years. The case was first developed on a tip last Friday by Lt. Van.

Three Directors To Be Chosen At Annual Meeting

Members of the South Cumberland Business Men's Association will elect three directors at the annual dinner meeting tomorrow at 6 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Nominated are Earl Chaney, Webster Edwards, George Holler, James H. Garland, Henry Herold, Raymond Lapp, John Snyder and George Warner.

Holdover members of the board are Dr. Blair Stump, Harry Wilson and Wesley Taylor. A replacement for A. L. Beckman, who resigned as director will be appointed later.

Principal speaker will be Win Pendleton, a newspaperman and public relations consultant of Washington, D. C. He writes the "Washington See-Saw" column which appears in more than 100 newspapers. Although Capitol Hill is his "beat," he is chiefly interested in the lighter side of political news.

During the 1956 campaign he traveled with Vice President Alben Barkley on his 34-day air tour throughout the country.

Pendleton is widely known as an after dinner speaker. At one time during World War II he was in charge of the speakers bureau for the U. S. Army in London.

Methodist Plan Training School
The annual leadership training school for the Methodist churches of the Cumberland sub-district will be held at Centre Street Methodist Church on October 14-15-16 and October 21-22-23.

Miss Lucy Bickel, director of children's work of the Baltimore Conference will be a member of the faculty. Classes will be held for workers in the nursery and junior departments of the children's division and in the youth and adult departments.

The session will begin each evening with a devotional service under the leadership of Rev. Kenneth Grove, pastor of Emmanuel Church, using the theme "Personal Devotions."

The fellowship hour each Wednesday evening at the close of the regular session will be under the direction of Rev. Everett Culp, pastor of First Church.

Two Changes In City Hall Offices Made

Long Votes Against Move; Gibson Says Nothing In Budget

The Mayor and Council today approved two job changes affecting secretaries in the Street Department and Civil Service Commission office.

Mrs. Joy T. Oliver, who has been secretary in the Street Department office, was appointed temporary secretary in the city clerk's office pending an examination to create and qualify the position under Civil Service. The salary for the position remains unchanged at $290.50 a month.

Mrs. Edna C. Powers, who has been in the Civil Service Commission office, was appointed stenographer in the Street Department at $265 a month effective September 9. Mrs. Powers has been employed on a parttime basis and goes on a fulltime basis.

Long Opposes
Finance Commissioner John J. Long said he had no objection to the candidates but said in the interest of economy he must vote against the appointments. He said the money necessary to change an employee from a parttime to fulltime employee could be used elsewhere and referred to several problems, including possible wage increases, which must be met.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson also raised the question that no provision had been made for the salaries for a year, pointing out that such moves require changes in appropriations.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz, who signed the orders, said he planned to take care of the appropriations transfer in a later order. He added, however, this cannot be done until after the first of the year.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan told council that at one time, one woman did all the work for council "and now we have three." He added he did not know what the answer is.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ulery said he suggested the change because he felt the one taking minutes of council sessions should be connected with his office. He is also secretary to the Civil Service Commission.

Other Appointments
Council also approved several other appointments and accepted a resignation today.

Appointed were: Patrick J. Murphy and Roscoe L. Lantz as regular members of the Fire Department; Philip K. Gilpin as a probationary policeman effective September 9; Mrs. Betty Williams as a policewoman at a salary of $260 a month until a Civil Service list is provided; and DeJoris N. Pittman as temporary clerk in the office of the tax collector at a salary of $212 a month until an eligible list is established.

William Lewis Shinnolt resigned as a probationary officer effective September 8 to accept a "better job" at Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

This prompted Commissioner Keegan to comment: "It's not a better job, just better pay."

Plans Rummage Sale
The Youth Fellowship of Centre Street Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale at the church tomorrow at 4 p. m.

City Takes Steps To Deed Memorial Hospital Land

The city is taking steps preparatory to deeding to Memorial Hospital land the hospital needs in order to receive a Ford Foundation grant which will be used for expanding a section of the institution.

Under an order passed by the Mayor and Council today,

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan is authorized to prepare a charter amendment or whatever legal papers are necessary to convey to the hospital title to the land on which the contagious disease unit stands.

The city plans to work out a "reversion" clause. The hospital, in a letter to council last week, pointed out the land could not be disposed of without written consent of council.

Memorial is eligible for a grant of $120,000 and plans to use funds to add two stories to the contagious disease unit. In order to receive the money for such a project, it must have title to the property.

The contagious disease unit was constructed in 1949 at a cost of $157,245 of which the city and county contributed $90,000 and the federal government the remainder.

Should requirements be met and funds obtained, the X-ray department would be located on the second floor and laboratory department on the third floor. Both, in the present main building, are inadequate, according to Charles A. Piper, chairman of the Board of Governors, and John A. Mohrly, superintendent.

The space occupied at present by X-ray would be for added office and lobby area; and the present laboratory area would be converted into a recovery suite for post-operative patients.

Members of council individually expressed the opinion that every possible effort should be made to meet requirements and obtain the Ford Foundation grant.

Trucks To Be Re-Routed In Heart Of City

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said today that in the future trucks without a downtown designation will be re-routed.

The commissioner spoke out after council received official notification that Celanese Corporation of America is re-routing its trucks during construction of the new Baltimore Street bridge. Public announcement of the move was hailed by Keegan several days ago.

The police commissioner also said the department is attempting to meet complaints of noise caused by trucks re-routed into residential areas. Wherever possible, trucks are to be routed around the city and off city streets, he said.

Keegan also announced an agreement with Cumberland Transit Lines to allow two buses an hour to cross the temporary Baltimore Street bridge. The buses' destination are Greene Street and Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

The department is making the move, he said, to cooperate with the transit line which "needs the business" and to provide better bus service for residents of the Greene Street area.

While the Army Engineers have requested that heavy vehicles be kept off the temporary span, Keegan said it has never been a question of weight of the vehicles. Rather, he added, it has been a question of width of the bridge and the ability of the heavier vehicles to make the turns on and off the structure.

A briefing session for Business Brigade workers will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the George Williams room of the Central YMCA. Objectives of the division will be the 750 area firms with nine employees or less. Since joining the Kelly Springfield advertising staff in 1950, Barber has been a vigorous promoter of community affairs. He headed the Cumberland Clean-Up Campaign for two years, served two terms as publicity director of local Red Cross campaigns, in those places.

While serving as "Y" secretary in Woburn, Mass., from 1949 to 1953, he was volunteer campaign chairman of the Woburn Chapter of the Greater Boston United Fund, and held down committee jobs in community fund-raising in Cranston, R. I., and Trenton, N. J., while engaged in "Y" work of local Red Cross campaigns, in those places.

Group Visits North Branch Flood Sites

Legislative Unit To Continue Study Of River Problems

The Legislative Council's Potomac Basin subcommittee was scheduled to wind up a busy day in Allegany and Garrett counties with a visit to Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation this evening.

While there they are to view the river pump house and filtration plant, and then be guests of Celanese at dinner at the plant cafeteria.

This afternoon, they attended a conference with city and county officials in City Hall here.

Propose Reservoir
Earlier today the legislators and a large group of officials met at Kitzmiller to discuss the flood protection problems of that section, including Blaine, W. Va., just across the Potomac River.

Col. George B. Sumner, district engineer for the Corps of Army Engineers, led the discussion and outlined the proposition as contained in the "Status of Studies on the North Branch of the Potomac River." This study contains data pertaining to flood protection, alleviation of pollution, recreation and water supply.

A reservoir on the North Branch is among items listed in the status of study. Floyd B. Morris of the Corps of Army Engineers told the group that projects which would be proposed could be financed with local subdivisions putting up 10 percent and the federal government about 90 percent.

This would be for flood control works. As an example, it has been estimated that it would cost about $300,000 for a project to protect Kitzmiller.

Representative Group
At today's meeting in Kitzmiller there were John C. Luber, speaker of the House; William Wheeler, Montgomery County, acting chairman of the committee; Delegate Myron Bloom, Washington County; Sen. Robert Dean, Queen Anne's County; Sen. Winship Wheatley, Prince George's County; Dr. Joseph N. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources; Owen E. Hichins, a member of the Upper Potomac River Commission; Julian Patrick, supervisory engineer for the Savage River Dam.

Sen. Clifford Friend and members of the Garrett County delegation, Harry Edwards, Kermit Glatfelter and Jess Ashby; Frank Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Joseph Kaylor, director of the State Department of Forests and Parks and Del. Lester B. Reed, of Allegany County, a member of the legislative group.

Information included on the calendar is sponsoring organization, date and time, and if necessary, character of the project and anticipated attendance. Regular meeting dates of member organizations the listed, as well as local football games.

Mathews said all area organizations have been invited to list projects on this calendar, and to apply for inclusion on the mailing list. Contact chairman are Mrs. Arthur Davis Jr., PA 4-0668, and Mrs. Theos A. Angelus, at PA 2-6341.

Cook Admits Desecration
The 24-year-old local man who smeared red paint over a tablet on the Court House lawn which bears the Ten Commandments signed a statement in the State's Attorney's office this morning.

Edwin R. Lilya, Allegany County investigator, said Roger Cook admitted in a statement this morning that he had painted the tablet.

CUF Business Brigade Swinging Into Action
In the midst of the highly successful Golden Gifts campaign of the County United Fund, in which CUF "shock troops" have garnered nearly $100,000 of their $125,000 goal, the Business Brigade of the big fund-raising organization is poised and ready to swing into action behind

Brigadiers Harold D. Barber, member of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company advertising and sales promotion department, and B. U. Smith, general secretary of Central YMCA, who were named to their posts today by Lewis J. Ort, CUF campaign chairman.

Captains named by the brigadiers are Mrs. George N. Phillips, pl. Willie V. Smith, Paul M. Shirriff, Theodore R. Wojcik, Henry H. Lowery, Charles G. Smith, G. W. Davis, Glenn K. Davis, Robert E. Pence, Bert Graham, L. A. Richard McConnell, Ronald J. Screen, Mrs. Charles Helurich, Mrs. Holmes Cessna and Mrs. John A. Moberly.

He was president of both the YMCA and the Rotary Club last year, has served as a "Y" director for seven years, and is a 32nd degree Mason, Cumberland Consistory.

Smith, who came here as general secretary of the Central "Y" last February, has had broad experience in United Fund campaigns. He directed all fund-raising in Anne Arundel County from 1933 to 1937, in which there was a united effort with Baltimore County for both community and Red Cross funds. In these four years, a total of more than $300,000 was raised under his direction.

It's too bad that Cumberland isn't a hot bed for tennis. If it were, young Jimmy Twigg might have an excellent chance of going far in the sport in the shortest possible time.

The 16-year-old net star is regarded as one of the brightest young stars ever to pop up on Cumberland's tennis horizon. In fact, he may even be the brightest.

L. E. "Red" Van Sant, Cumberland's "grand old man of tennis," says he doesn't remember a player as young as Jimmy ever reaching the finals in the 29-year history of the County Tournament.

Twigg gained the title round yesterday by knocking off Maurice "Ish" Bernstein in straight sets, on the Garlitz courts. The 6-4, 6-2 victory marked Jimmy's second win over favored and more experienced foes in as many days, as Saturday found him eliminating Johnny Byrd.

A huskily-built lad, Twigg has been playing tennis seriously for about four years, winning the city junior championship the past two. Standing about 5-8 and weighing 150 pounds, Jimmy has excellent reflexes, terrific speed, good ground strokes, a developing net game and a fair overhead game.

Up until a week or ten days ago, the budding young star's biggest drawback was his mental attitude. A modest young man, he lacked confidence when taking the court against the city's veterans.

In changing his thinking, he felt that he had the ability to beat these veterans and decided to do something about it by ditching the defeatist attitude which he got into county play.

His weekend victories over seeded players proved his point. The conquests were achieved not only by his good physical condition and control of his strokes, but by "heady" play as well. In addition to his tournament triumphs, he also gained an edge in sets played in recent days with Bill Day, seeded No. 1 in the County event.

"Oldtimers" at the Garlitz courts who took Jimmy under their wings a couple of years ago are responsible for his success, he claims, although they maintain his natural ability has been the major factor.

Showing that he is a "thinker," Twigg explained to Byrd after Saturday's match how he planned his attack. He had never won a set from Johnny before the tournament and figured the best way to score a "first" was to offset Byrd's experience by extending him to three sets.

"Being 20 years younger, I figured I could outlast you in the final set if I was able to split the first two," Twigg told Byrd. The strategy was perfect. Byrd fiddled out and unseeded Jimmy broke his serve in the tenth and final game to win. Each copped 15 games in the gruelling match which went 3-6, 2-6 and 6-4.

Jimmy also has an opportunity of developing into a pretty fair ballplayer as a football player at Fort Hill High. His gridiron training, however, has been curtailed because of the necessity of working part time.

And if he blossoms into a top-flight football player, he will rate as a good collegiate prospect in two sports.

The accent on youth has also been asserted in the women's division of the County Tournament where 18-year-old Laureen Miller is making a determined bid to gain the finals.

Like Twigg, Miss Miller is a two-time city junior champion and if she gets by Louise Wilson and Mrs. Gordon Bowie, she'll be "in."

If both Jimmy and Laureen go all the way, they'll write another chapter in Cumberland tennis history—becoming the first ever to win the junior and county championships the same year.

Sisler To Help Slugger Stuart

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Outfielder Dick Stuart, home-run hitting farmhand of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is coming here Sept. 16 for a week of special batting instruction.

The Pirates announced today Stuart, with Lincoln (Neb.) in the Class A Western League, would be put under the wing of George Sisler, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame.

Stuart, 25, hit 66 home runs for Lincoln in 1956. He had a spring tryout with the Pirates but was sent back to the minors. His home run log this season totals 44, 30 of them for Lincoln. He played briefly for Hollywood and Atlanta.

Braves Counting On Spahn And Father Time

Possibility Of Collapse Increased In Loss To Cubs

By FRED DE LUCA
NEW YORK (INS)—The Milwaukee Braves are counting on Warren Spahn and old Father Time to save them from blowing another pennant.

With his pitching staff crippled by an injury to Bob Buhl and the sudden ineffectiveness of Lew Burdette and Gene Conley, Milwaukee manager Fred Haney knows it is up to Spahn to carry the Braves to the flag—with an assist from time.

After their double win a week ago on Labor Day, the Braves led the league by 8½ games with 24 games to play. But today, they lead by 5½ lengths with 18 to play.

There may not be enough games left for the second-place St. Louis Cardinals to overtake the Braves, particularly if Spahn keeps winning. The Braves have lost four and won two since Labor Day and both victories have been recorded by the stylish southpaw.

Hand Cubs Victory

If the Braves win only seven of their remaining 18 games, the Cards would have to take 12 of 17 left to tie the Milwaukee.

But the possibility of the Beer City boys collapsing as they did in 1956 increased yesterday when they lost, 5 to 3, in 10 innings to the Chicago Cubs.

Nippy Jones' double and Red Schoendienst' single scored the tying run for Milwaukee in the ninth but in the tenth, Ernie Johnson gave up four walks and a single virtually to hand the Cubs two runs. Hank Aaron had the lead Cub run thrown out at the plate but catcher Del Crandall let the ball go through his legs. Dick Drott won his 13th in relief.

Meanwhile, St. Louis got hotter. The Cards fought back from a three-run deficit to score twice in the eighth and ninth innings to nip Cincinnati, 4 to 3. The long interboro rivalry between Brooklyn and New York ended for all time with the Giants taking a 3-1-2 win on Hank Sauer's homer. Philadelphia rallied for four runs in the ninth to beat Pittsburgh, 7 to 4, but the Pirates won the second, 6 to 2, as southpaw Bob Smith registered his first big league win.

In the American League, the New York Yankees increased their lead to 3½ games by beating Washington, 5 to 2; behind the combined four-hit pitching of Tom Sturdivant and Bobby Shantz. A group of former Yankee farmhands led Kansas City to a 3-2-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox in 13 innings. Mike Farnie's three-hit pitching and Dick Gernert's two-run homer gave Boston a 2-0-0 win over Baltimore. Billy Hoeltz hurled Detroit to a 3-1-1 triumph over Cleveland.

Sievers Bats In Two
Roy Sievers singled in both Washington runs but it wasn't enough to beat the Yanks, who once again were playing without Mickey Mantle who stayed seven points behind the likewise idle Ted Williams. Sievers boosted his league-leading RBI total to 101.

Ex-Yankee Jack Urban went the distance for the A's and gave up just five hits. Two other Yankee expatriates, Lou Skizas and Woody Held, also hurt the Sox. Skizas homered early in the game, then singled and eventually scored the winning run on Held's sacrifice fly. Dixie Howell was the loser.

Fornieles outpitched Billy O'Dell as Boston took the season series, 14 victories to eight. Detroit's Hoeltz won only his eighth game of the season and for the first time, he put victories back to back. Cal McLish was the loser. Hoeltz lost his shutout when Gene Woodling homered in the eighth.

Giants Overcome Lead
Frank Robinson, with a triple, homer and single, scored all three Cincinnati runs. The Cards scored two in the eighth on Joe Nuxhall's wild throw and added two more in the ninth on a walk and three singles with Al Dark's safety being the deciding one. Larry Jackson won in relief.

The Giants, who will be playing in San Francisco next year, overcame an early Brooklyn lead created by Junior Gilliam's two-run homer with a three-run burst in the fourth as Willie Mays singled. Ray Jablonski tripled and Hank Sauer hit his 23th homer. Don Drysdale lost and Curt Barclay won, with assistance from Marv Grissom.

Philadelphia's first game uprising gave the win to Dick Farrell with Bob Purkey taking the defeat. Smith scattered eight hits in the second game and coasted after the Pirates scored four off Warren Hacker in the third inning.

Two Openers Set Saturday For SC Clubs

By The Associated Press

Football coaches in the Southern Conference got ready to make their players work a lot harder and a little longer today as the second week of pre-season practice began.

The tipoff came Saturday when the rough stuff began with lengthy game-condition scrimmages. More of the same is fairly certain to be the rule this week.

For two coaches, the next five days will provide the last opportunity to whip their charges into shape before the 1957 season starts. Furman debuts at home against East Tennessee State and Richmond makes its bow at Portsmouth, Va., against East Carolina in games this Saturday night.

Landis Stars
Richmond's Spiders showed so poorly on defense in their "Press Day" scrimmage that they got a bawling out from Coach Ed Merzick. Halfbacks David Amers, Danny Wagner and Bob Lemmon, fullback John Zupiech and quarterback Jerry Landis and Jim Boston got time and again made the defenders look bad with long runs and successful passes.

At VMI, Coach John McKenna was displeased with the varsity's defensive showing in a scrimmage and also expressed disappointment in its offense, though the varsity scored eight times.

At The Citadel, a two-hour scrimmage in a left Coach Eddie Teague believing the bulldogs are "a little ahead of what we thought they'd be at this stage."

Fullbacks Bobby Conner and Frank Eastman reeled off touchdowns in Virginia Tech's scrimmage against the freshmen.

Freshman Sparkles
Freshman quarterback Danny Williams embarrassed West Virginia's varsity defenders with a 30-yard run and a 45-yard touchdown pass, though the varsity won the "game" with the fresh 24-6. Ray Peterson had two of the varsity touchdowns; Ronnie Santi.

'Damned Tired Of Losing,' Says President Of Colts

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Personally, I'm damned sick and tired of losing," Carroll Rosenbloom, president of the Baltimore Colts, told a gloomy bunch of fans last night.

Rosenbloom, principal money backer when Baltimore regained a National League franchise after a two-year loss, spoke to an audience downcast over the Colts' first exhibition loss in four to Washington, 24-14, yesterday.

"When we open the regular season we mean to get serious," Rosenbloom promised the "kick off" banquet. "This is our year. Watch us go."

Won't Take Profit
Rosenbloom and other officials, including Coach Weeb Ewbank, sought to explain the Colts this year tried for the first time in exhibition games to give rookies a full chance.

Rosenbloom has said time and again that he and other owners will not take a dollar profit until Baltimore has a championship team.

Coach Ewbank, in a series of soul-revealing talks provoked by the loss to neighboring and arch-rival Washington, disclosed that when he quit the Cleveland Browns in 1951 as assistant coach he and Colt officials estimated it would take five years to build "a respected team."

Says Job Can Be Done
"I still believe the job can be done," he said. "We've got a good ball club. I haven't given the first team a chance to play. From now on, they will."

Don Kelleit, executive vice president, told the Colt loyalists "we feel we have improved ourselves tremendously," but that a lot depends on their continued enthusiasm.

He pointed out the Colts have won 10, lost seven and tied one in the past three seasons at home.

As for the Washington exhibition loss, Kelleit also assured the fans "these games don't count, they soon will."

Toronto Cops Second 'Int' Flag In Row

By International News Service

One of the most exciting international league pennant races in recent years is over and the Toronto Maple Leafs have captured a second straight flag.

The race went down to the last day and the Leafs won the pennant by a half-game over Buffalo's Cinderella Bisons, who were attempting to climb all the way from a last-place finish in 1956 to the top of the league.

The other two teams to qualify for the playoffs were Richmond and Miami with Montreal, a strong pre-season favorite, ending in the cellar.

The Leafs won their 11th league pennant by pulling together a seven-game victory streak to close out the season, the first four wins coming over Buffalo.

The honor of clinching the pennant yesterday went to Humberto Robinson. The right-handed ace of the Leafs won his 18th game against seven losses as he tossed a six-hit 4-1-3 victory over Rochester.

The Leafs were losing, 2 to 1, until the eighth when Archie Wilson, a recent acquisition, belted a two-run homer and Mike Goliat added an insurance run with another homer.

Buffalo played on Toronto's heels by belting Montreal, 6 to 4, and Columbus beat Richmond, 12 to 4, to take over seventh place. Although Miami lost to sixth-place Havana, 8 to 3, the Marlins nailed down fourth place when Rochester lost to Toronto.

Reds, Merchants Lead In Pen-Mar Semi-Finals

A four-run fifth inning snapped the winning streak of Barrelville in the Pen-Mar Baseball League yesterday and gave Centerville the lead in the best-of-three semi-finals as the Reds pulled out a 4-3 victory on the losers' diamond in the opener of the series.

Hyndman's pennant winning out at home when trying to score Merchants also grabbed the on Homer Rose's safety. First-opener of their set with Zihlman-baseman Ronnie Diehl sent in by downing the Zippers, 5-2, at what proved to be the winning Hyndman. Both the Merchants run with a one-bagger.

Green Bay, 49ers Still Undefeated

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's 49ers and Green Bay's Packers are the only teams with unblemished exhibition records in the National Football League but Chicago's big bad Bears have started to stumble.

The Bears, beaten by the New York Giants in last fall's playoff, sprang loose a rookie halfback named Willie Gailimore yesterday and dealt the Philadelphia Eagles their fifth straight setback, 24-14. It was one of the five games played over the weekend.

In Saturday's games, the 49ers and Packers each won their fourth straight with San Francisco defeating the winless Chicago Cardinals, 27-21, and Green Bay downing the Giants, 13-10. On Sunday, the Pittsburgh Steelers made their record 22 by turning back the Detroit Lions 20-14 and the Washington Redskins won their first in four with a 24-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts. The Giant defeat was the champions' second. They have won three.

Runs 74, 100 Yards
Gailimore, a 190-pounder from Florida A&M, reeled off touchdowns runs of 74 and 100 yards as the Bears made their exhibition record two victories, one defeat and a tie. He opened the scoring with a 74-yard sprint. Then he took the kickoff and stepped off the length of the gridiron.

Y. A. Tittle, veteran quarterback, again engineered the 49ers attack. Passes to Clyde Conner and R. C. (Overdrive) Owens accounted for two touchdowns and Gene Babbs plunged for the other two. The big play in the Cards' attack was a 37-yard payoff aerial from Lamar McHan to Gern Nagler.

Two field goals by Fred Cone, from 17 and 30 yards out, gave the Packers their advantage over the Giants. The champions counted 10 points in the first period but could do nothing thereafter. Dan Chandler missed a 38-yard field goal attempt in the last two minutes as the Giants battled to square the score.

Redskins Roll
The Redskins rolled up three touchdowns before Colt quarterback John Unkrus' passing made the score somewhat closer. The first Redskins TD came when Norb Hecker intercepted a pass on the Baltimore 47, raced to the 25 where he lateraled to Tom Brazz, who scored. Joe Scudero scampered 40 yards for the second.

Coach Buddy Parker, in full charge of Pittsburgh for the first time since taking over a month ago, saw the Steelers turn on his old club with a great display of defensive strength after taking a 20-7 lead going into the final period. Dick Hughes returned a punt 86 yards for a Steelers' touchdown early in the third period.

Reds, Merchants
McGregor had two singles. The losers tallied their final run in the eighth on a solo homer by Ronnie Cage.

Jim Eckard and John Horwath started at short and second for Barreille.

Carl May's two-run single in the sixth inning put Hyndman ahead 3-2 in the sixth inning and the victors went on to add single runs in the seventh and eighth innings off Bobby Dawson to clinch the triumph in the opener of the best-of-three series.

Gene Stair led off the sixth inning for Hyndman with a single and Cliff Clites doubled him to third. With one out Clay Leydig was intentionally passed to load the bases setting the stage for May's single.

Pete Deremer and Clites each collected a double and two singles for Hyndman. Best at the plate for Zihlman was Denny Shuck with two one-base knocks. Leydig starred at third base for the winners with several nice catches.

Hyndman's victory gave the Merchants the edge in the five games played with Zihlman, the two teams having split four regular season games. Hyndman won 12-5 and 8-5, while Zihlman won 7-5 and 10-4.

OLD EXPORTS TOP OLD GEES, 6-2
Charlie Drew's double with the bases loaded in the fifth inning helped give the Old Exports a 6-2 victory over Old Germans in the softball game at the annual Brewery Workers Local 265 picnic yesterday at Mt. Calvary grounds.

Brimble Long, Jim Angellata, and "Hook" Gibson garnered the three hits for the Old Germans off Fred Metzger and Drew. Bob Hook was the losing pitcher. Jim Kienhofer's play at third base was outstanding for the winners' while Gibson excelled at shortstop for the losers.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (INS)—Malcolm Anderson, an unseeded Australian cowboy, and Althea Gibson, a girl who learned her tennis on the streets of Harlem, are the new king and queen of U. S. amateur tennis.

Anderson became the first unseeded player in the 77-year-old U. S. Open, his 10th title, by defeating the 19th seed, Louis Rost, 6-3, 6-2, in the final. Gibson, 21, won the women's singles title by defeating Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, in the final.

Anderson, who teamed up with Cooper to win the French Doubles Championship this year, had dropped five out of six singles matches to Ashley before yesterday's victory.

Last year's champion, Ken Rosewall of Australia, significantly hadn't been able to defeat Lew Hoad in 20 months before his great upset of Hoad in the final at Forest Hills.

Althea, who said she'll continue playing but would like to become a professional songstress, defeated the four-time Wimbledon queen in 47 minutes and then teamed up with Kurt Nielsen of Denmark to win the mixed doubles title, 6-3, 9-7, from Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Bob Howe of Australia.

Anderson, who will marry Daphne Emerson, sister of fifth-ranked Aussie player Roy Emerson, Oct. 5 in Brisbane, side-tracked the 20-year-old Australian champion and Wimbledon runner-up to Lew Hoad in just one hour and 18 minutes.

Althea, runnerup to Shirley Fry in her first U. S. final last year, settled an old score in defeating Miss Brough, U. S. titlist ten years ago.

Eight Titles This Year
Seven years ago the lanky daughter of a Harlem garageman came within two points of upsetting Miss Brough the first time she ever stepped on the stadium lawn. An electrical storm which knocked one of the masonry eagles from atop the stadium halted play and Louise came back to defeat the unknown Cinderella.

Althea, who now has won eight titles this year including the U. S. clay courts crown, lost to Louise two years ago at Merion but yesterday's was her fourth straight win over the blonde Californian.

Miss Gibson was guilty of many errors but where Miss Fry was able to cash in on them last year, Louise was unable to follow up her advantages. Althea broke Louise's service three times in the first set and twice in the second, the final break coming in the fourth game with a backhand crosscourt placement.

Anderson, 22-year-old son of a Queensland rancher, defeated Kosei Kamo, Henry Van Rensselaer, Gregory Grant, Dick

Sparks, and Bill Pegg, all of whom he defeated in the first round.

North Carolina showed it either has a strong offense or no defense at all in a scrimmage game won by the Blues, 51-19 over the Whites.

Sparking the Wake Forest drills were halfback Bill Pegg, fullback Neil MacLean and quarterback Jim Dalrymple.

Bakhtiar Tallies Four
Offense looked good at Virginia where fullback Jim Bakhtiar scored four times. One touchdown came on an 80-yard run. Halfback Sonny Randle, a track star, also scored four times, twice on punt returns of 65 yards.

During the Maryland scrimmage, seven touchdowns were scored, four by the first team, one by the second team and two by the third team. The game's longest run came from fullback Jim Hatter who went 34 yards.

The Clemson offense produced nine touchdowns, which caused Coach Frank Howard to remark, "our defense didn't look too good."

Free-Scoring Season Seen For Atlantic

By The Associated Press

It's an old cry of linemen that the hip swiveling backs get all the glory, but it could be that the backs will deserve all the credit they get in the Atlantic Coast Conference this season.

After a full round of scrimmages in all ACC football camps Saturday, it appeared that the conference might develop into a wide-open, free-scoring touchdown happy loop this season.

Blue Devil Scampers
In the Duke workout, halfback Eddie Ruskon scampered 50 yards on one touchdown jaunt and Wray Carlton went 55 and 18 yards for two other TDs.

At North Carolina State halfback Dick Christy scored three times, on runs of 50, 10 and 2 yards, and reeled off 31 yards on another play. Halfback Dick Hunter churned off a 43-yard run and then banged over from the five for a touchdown.

The Chestnut of New York and Jose Cattero of Los Angeles, a night at Hollywood, Calif. It's one pair of classy featherweight contenders, battle it out Saturday

Featherweight Bobby Bell and lightweight Lulu Perez, who fought to a draw Aug. 19, clash again tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. It figures to be another close 10-rounder.

Bell, of Youngstown, Ohio, spotted his 24-year-old rival seven pounds — 135½ to 128½ — in their first fight but finished strong to earn the draw. The 28-year-old Bell has a spotty 38-29-6 record but has enough ability to beat most featherweights and lightweights on a good night. Perez, of Brooklyn, has a 38-11-2 record. The bout will be telecast (DuMont, 10:30 p.m., EDT).

Tuesday is the big night for boxing this week. Listed for action tomorrow night are heavyweight contenders Willie Pastrano, Zora Polley, and Alex Miteff, and light heavyweight contender Harold Johnson.

Pastrano, No. 4 heavyweight challenger, meets sub. George Peyton of Houston at Miami Beach, Fla. Peyton replaced Roy Harris who suffered a cut over his eye in training.

Polley, ranked No. 2, meets Monroe Ratliff of Los Angeles at Phoenix. Miteff, the Pan-American champion from Argentina, who has an 11-0 pro record, meets Johnny Holman of Chicago at Denver.

Johnson, the ranking light heavyweight challenger, faces Wayne Bethea, a New York heavyweight, at Philadelphia.

Well-known contenders Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., and Larry Baker of New York, collide in the Wednesday night television (ABC, 10 p.m., EDT) feature at Chicago Stadium. Martinez, ranked fourth, is the favorite but Baker could surprise. The New Yorker, unbeaten in his last nine fights, upset Mexico's Gaspar Ortega July 3 to earn a welter ranking for the first time.

Middleweights Randy Sandy of New York and Franz Suzina of Germany tangle at Syracuse, N. Y., Friday night (NBC TV-Radio, 10 p.m., EDT). Suzina has won three straight. Sandy dropped his last two but both were close fights with contenders Joey Giardello and Spider Webb.

Catherman Wins In Fall Tourney

By The Associated Press

Bill Catherman defeated Frank Wilkinson, 5 and 4, to open defense of his title in the Men's Golf Association's fall tourney at the Cumberland Country Club over the weekend.

In other eight matches Col. R. W. Meals bested George Bortoff, 5 and 4, and John Topper edged Clifton Van Roby, 1 up, in 18 holes. Topper's victory came when he birdied the final two holes to come from 1 down against Roby.

In the third flight matches played this weekend Stanley Jacobson defeated Capt. R. A. Clarke, 4 and 2. H. A. Johnson downed Phil Walker, 2 and 1, and Maurice Conn bested Ziggle Zamowski, 4 and 3.

Saturday Dr. Frank Leger and Dr. William H. Ryan tied for the title in a weekend straight handicap tournament. Each carded a net 66 for the 18 holes of play.

Winners of drives nearest the pin on par three holes were Dr. Leger on No. 1 and No. 2 Hal Sebra on No. 10, James Beacham on No. 12 and C. V. Roby on No. 15.

Yesterday two teams tied for first in the mixed twosome best ball tournament sponsored by the 19th Hole Bowling Club. The victors were Dr. William H. Ryan and Mrs. Hal Sebra and J. A. Moberly and Mrs. William J. Anderson, both of whom carded net 63.

Somerville Nicholson and Mrs. Donald B. Grove carded a net 64 to finish third. There were 21 participants in the tournament.

Twigg Enters County Finals

By The Associated Press

Jim Twigg, 16-year-old city junior tennis champion continued his giant-killer role in the Allegheny County tourney yesterday by whipping former champion Maurice "Ish" Bernstein, 6-4, 6-2, on the Garlitz courts. Twigg enters the finals with the victory.

Twigg, champ in the lower division, had upset Johnny Byrd in the semi-finals. Four remain in the upper division with Bill Day, seeded No. 1, John "Boots" Sapp, Luis Sykes and Dr. Robert Novak in contention.

Day will meet Sapp and Sykes takes on Dr. Novak with the winners moving to the semi-finals. The victor then will oppose Twigg for the county crown. Day whipped Don Hanekamp, 6-0, 6-2, yesterday.

In the women's division over the weekend, Maureen Miller, the City girls' champion, defeated Mrs. Richard Winer, 6-1, 6-4.

Louise Wilson eliminated Maureen Manley. Miss Wilson plays Miss Miller and in the upper division Dot Heavner meets Mrs. Gordon Bowie.

Tourney To Start
Members of the Women's Golf Association of the Maplehurst Country Club who wish to participate in the fall tourney are to sign up by today. The tournament is expected to begin tomorrow.

McGregor had two singles. The losers tallied their final run in the eighth on a solo homer by Ronnie Cage.

Jim Eckard and John Horwath started at short and second for Barreille.

Carl May's two-run single in the sixth inning put Hyndman ahead 3-2 in the sixth inning and the victors went on to add single runs in the seventh and eighth innings off Bobby Dawson to clinch the triumph in the opener of the best-of-three series.

Gene Stair led off the sixth inning for Hyndman with a single and Cliff Clites doubled him to third. With one out Clay Leydig was intentionally passed to load the bases setting the stage for May's single.

Pete Deremer and Clites each collected a double and two singles for Hyndman. Best at the plate for Zihlman was Denny Shuck with two one-base knocks. Leydig starred at third base for the winners with several nice catches.

Hyndman's victory gave the Merchants the edge in the five games played with Zihlman, the two teams having split four regular season games. Hyndman won 12-5 and 8-5, while Zihlman won 7-5 and 10-4.

OLD EXPORTS TOP OLD GEES, 6-2
Charlie Drew's double with the bases loaded in the fifth inning helped give the Old Exports a 6-2 victory over Old Germans in the softball game at the annual Brewery Workers Local 265 picnic yesterday at Mt. Calvary grounds.

Brimble Long, Jim Angellata, and "Hook" Gibson garnered the three hits for the Old Germans off Fred Metzger and Drew. Bob Hook was the losing pitcher.

Jim Kienhofer's play at third base was outstanding for the winners' while Gibson excelled at shortstop for the losers.

Braves Alter '56 Faults In Pennant Bid

(Second of a Series)
By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—There were five basic reasons why the Milwaukee Braves lost the pennant last year.

1. A weakness at second base and left field.
2. Lack of knowledge of the fundamentals—had bunting, poor base running, too frequent throwing to the wrong base.
3. Lack of balance—deficient in left-handed hitting strength and right and left-handed relief pitching.
4. A September slump that affected all the hitters and all the pitchers with the exception of Warren Spahn.

No Duplication Seen
As the Braves head into the final month of the season—to an almost certain pennant—Manager Fred Haney has the satisfaction of knowing that all but the fifth reason for Milwaukee's failure to win last year have been eliminated. And because of those four correctives, there almost certainly will not be a duplication of last September's swan dive.

The master stroke, of course, was the acquisition of Red Schoendienst from the New York Giants on June 15. With nearly 15 seasons behind him, the 34-year-old second baseman has been just what the doctor ordered.

One of the reasons the Braves waited so long before completing the deal for Schoendienst was their reluctance to part with Bobby Thomson. They believed they had no replacement for him in left field. They found out differently.

With Thomson gone Wes Covington soon made Milwaukee fans forget Thomson. The young left-handed slugger began to hit almost immediately after his recall from Wichita and he's still going strong.

Know Fundamentals
The Braves still are not adept in bunting and they're last in base stealing. But they've grasped a certain knowledge of baseball fundamentals. They certainly had enough instruction along those lines. Day after day during spring training, Haney and his coaches drilled them in leading off base, holding runners on base, working cutoffs, etc.

A year ago rival managers right-handed the Braves to death. Rarely did a left-hander start against them. Once they got past Mathews—and maybe Bill Bruton—the pitchers had no more worries regarding left-handed opposition.

The pitching, too, has been strengthened by the comeback of Gene Conley and the recall from Wichita of Don McMahon, who quickly developed into an ace reliever.

Soundness On Bench
The soundness of the bench demonstrated that Milwaukee was the best balanced team in the National League. It is doubtful if the Braves would be out in front today if it hadn't been for the reserves.

When key men like Joe Adcock, Bill Bruton and Johnny Logan were sidelined for long periods, Torre, Pafko and Felix Mantilla filled in admirably. Jones did a great job when Torre was out briefly and when Pafko was hurt. Hazle became a veritable sensation in right field.

Two Openers
cola ran 50 yards for another. Furman worked long and hard under the lights in a scrimmage that was even equipped with officials.

The longest Saturday scrimmage run was an 82-yard dash by Davidson sophomore scatback Brownie Thurmond.

William & Mary worked 90 minutes and pleased coach Milt Drorner with its performance. Freshman quarterback Bob Slay and halfbacks Lauron Klatatzke and Al Sherman drew particular praise.

UMPIRE

By BEANS REARDON
Written for NEA Service

QUESTION: With runners on first and second base and none out, the batter hits a fly to short right field. The runners hold their bases. The fielder traps the ball, then throws quickly to second base. The runners on first and second base don't move. The second baseman steps on the bag, then throws to first, where the batter already has crossed the bag. How many are out?—Sy Macas.

ANSER: Only one—the runner forced from first base. If the fielder had lagged the runner on second, then stepped on the bag it would have been a double play.

Q. The batter hits a line drive into fair territory about a foot inside the 250-foot foul marker. The outfielder, attempting the catch, deflects the ball into foul territory, over the fence. Is this a home run?—Wayne F. Lewis.

A. If the ball is deflected into foul territory less than the 250-foot mark, it is declared a two-bagger, and runners can be advanced no more than two bases. If the ball clears inside the 250-foot marker in fair territory, the umpire must rule a home run.

Q. The batter is hit by a pitched ball as the runner breaks from second base. The ball bounces away from the catcher and the runner makes third base easily. Is this legal?—Robert Surpin.

A. No, the ball is dead once it hits the batter.

Play Starts In Amateur Golf Today

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—The winner of the 57th National Amateur Golf championship likely will be a player about 34 or 35 years old with a good background of tournament experience. He'll have to be young enough to withstand 180 holes of golf within six days and old and smart enough to think out every shot.

That's a crude consensus of some of the top performers in the 200-man field which began play in the amateur today over the historic course of The Country Club.

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (INS)—Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., was the Road America sports car champion today after traveling at an average speed of 81.41 miles an hour to win the final practice round over the 6.825-mile race here yesterday.

Hill finished nine-tenths of a lap ahead of second-place Carroll Shelby of Dallas, Tex., in yesterday's race.

The winner's time was six hours, eight minutes and 30 seconds. Ed Crawford of Northfield, Ill., was third.

Blue Law Scratches Pro Wrestling Bout

BALTIMORE (AP)—One of the attractions of the St. Mary's County Fair—a professional wrestling match on Sunday—has been scratched from the program by Maryland's blue law.

The State Athletic Commission refused to sanction the match, scheduled at Leonardtown on Sunday, Sept. 22.

Bernard A. Garrity, a commission member, said the attorney general's office had advised the commission that professional wrestling on Sunday is illegal.

"In view of this," Garrity said, "there was nothing we could do but refuse to sanction the match."

Mays' Legs, Lighter Bat Saving Sauer

By International News Service
Hank Sauer figures the cool San Francisco summers, a lighter bat and Willie Mays' legs all will combine to keep him in the big leagues for another two or three years.

The 38-year-old slugger, well on his way to taking baseball's 1957 "Comeback of the Year" award, has benefited tremendously this year from a cool summer, a lighter bat and Mays' legs.

The New York Giants, in one of the biggest bargains in many years, signed Sauer as a free agent in the winter after St. Louis released him.

Sauer cut down the weight of his bat about six ounces and, with Mays in centerfield to help with the fielding, Hank has been his old hammy self.

The Pittsburgh-born veteran, who now lives in Inglewood, Calif., has won more than a dozen games for the Giants with his timely hitting. His latest big blow was yesterday when he hit a two-run homer as the Giants overcame an early Brooklyn lead to beat the Dodgers, 3 to 2.

Sauer, batting .280, now has 25 homers and 72 runs batted in. The raw-boned batter doesn't hide his appreciation of Mays' ability.

"I'm rubbing Willie's legs every day now," says Sauer. "He's going to keep me in the league a couple more years."

Five Advance In Tourney

Five advanced in the opening round of the championship flight of the fall handicap golf tourney at the Maplehurst Country Club over the weekend.

Winning were Charles Miller over Jack Zehrbach, 5 and 4; Charles Sager over Tom Baucum, 7 and 6; Bill Fisher over Jim Donahue, 5 and 4; Charles Pinto over Walter Eyer, 1 up in 18 holes; and Ben Hughes over Tom Gracie, 1 up in 18 holes.

The five losers drop into the first flight where they will join three others to comprise the flight's quarter-finalists.

In a second flight match Bob Porter defeated Charles Harper, 1 up in 19 holes. In the third flight Ed Preman defeated Joe Martiniano, 3 and 2; Jack Spates defeated Glenn Hanna, 2 and 1; James Spitznogle defeated Bill Day, 9 and 4; and Nick Harris beat Milt Gersen, 3 and 2.

In the fourth flight Charles Steidinger beat Francis Gaudio, 5 and 4; William Stevenson defeated Tom Stewart, 4 and 3; and Ken Babcock downed Tony Arnone, 5 and 4.

In a pair of fifth flight matches Bob Rephann bested Bill Barker, 3 and 2, and Willard Harvey edged Tom Hutcheson, 1 up in 18 holes.

In a Sunday low net tournament Willard Harvey was the winner with a 63 total. There were 24 entered in the tourney.

Cumberland Count 7

Get in on the fun. You may be a winner. In any case, you're bound to be ahead if you take advantage of the 7 point service offered by the Esso dealers in Cumberland.

Seven times daily, Monday through Saturday, WTBO will announce a seven-point service station whose license number has been selected by an officer of the Cumberland County Bank of Cumberland. If you are the registered owner of the car whose license number is called, and you phone WTBO at Parkville 2-6666 within two hours after the announcement, you will win an Esso Merchandise Booklet. It is good for $10.00 worth of fine Esso products and services at any Cumberland Esso dealer's seven point service station.

THEN, on Saturday night at 7:07, one of the numbers announced during the week will be announced again. If the registered owner of that car calls WTBO within two hours, he will be the winner of the Cumberland Esso Dealers Big Seven Treasury for that week. The Big Seven Treasury will start at $300.00 and increase $100.00 each week if it is not claimed.

Barton Has Critical Water Condition Due To Drought

BARTON — A critical water shortage exists in this community because of the drought and Mayor Arthur P. Hoffa and other members of the town council have asked residents to use economy in the use of water while a new source is being sought.

Alex Cross, town water superintendent, said the community is getting and using about 110,000 gallons of water in a 24-hour period, and normal consumption is not much higher than that rate. However, in hot and dry weather, people require more water than usual.

In order to make the limited supply reach as far as possible, the downtown area mains are turned off at 11 p. m. and turned on again at 7 a. m. This gives people on the hill sections a chance to draw water and gives their mains an opportunity to fill. They are without water all day, however, and these areas have voiced the most frequently heard complaints.

Purchase Approved
Barton has had a water situation that has been discussed for improvement on a number of occasions. In January of last year residents voted to buy the system from the old Barton Water Company for $40,000 so the town could operate and improve it. Some improvements have been made, officials claim, but the long drought has posed new and greater problems.

Mayor Hoffa said last night, "we are doing what we can but in the present situation what we need most is help from the weatherman."

The town has a small reservoir on Bartlett Run, more commonly known as Butcher Run on a hill above the town. This has been the main source of supply for many years. As more people piped water to their homes and the demand for water increased, officials realized that the supply was insufficient.

Several years ago a well was dug which helped augment the normal flow. A year or so ago a second well was dug but it was not completed because electrical power was not immediately available. However, this well is now in operation, Mayor Hoffa said, and is also helping the situation to a great degree.

The latter part of last week, an effort was made to bring in another well and dynamite was used to shoot the bottom. Mayor Hoffa said Frank Carpenter, Ridgeley well digger, is sending this equipment in this week to try to get this well in operation also.

Federal Survey Made
Council members point out that a survey was made by federal conservation authorities some time ago, and their plans call for a dam above the town's reservoir, which will be designed to hold heavy run-off, so the flow of the stream can be augmented in time of drought. This will help the situation eventually, they maintain. Just when this project is to be completed, no one here seems to know.

In the meantime, residents are drawing water in every type of available container during the periods when the water is turned off. Officials believe this accounts for considerable more consumption than might be necessary, because everyone is afraid the supply will be exhausted.

Some residents who work in Cumberland, Luke and other places are hauling large containers of drinking water to their homes, by auto, as they travel from work. In outlying areas where wells are normally used, some of them have gone dry.

RECEIVES DEGREE — Thomas J. Richardson, Barton, recently received his master's degree in education from West Virginia University. A 1952 graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, he is physical education and science instructor at Beall Elementary School, Frostburg.

Annual Reunion Held By Family

MIDLAND — The annual reunion of the Floyd Crowe family was held yesterday at St. Mary's Hall in Pocomantas, Pa., with 130 members including several local residents, attending.

Music for the affair was furnished by the Conrad Trio of Frostburg. Carol Baker of Wilmington, Del., played an accordion solo and Debsey Booth and Danny Spiker sang.

Mrs. George C. McKenzie of Flintstone who will celebrate her fiftieth wedding anniversary this fall, won the spoon trotting contest and Christina Warr of Meyersdale was presented a prize for being the youngest member of the family present. A number of other awards were also presented to various age groups.

Floyd Crowe was one of the pioneer farmers in Garrett County.

To Resume Schedule

FROSTBURG — The Sodality Bowling League of St. Michael's Catholic Church will resume its fall and winter schedule Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Members of the league will meet at 7 p. m. in the parish hall.

Patient In Hospital

FROSTBURG — Carl Kamauff, Wright's Crossing, is a surgical patient in Miners Hospital.

Members of the Barton Volunteer Fire Company are being especially watchful, because there is not sufficient water in the town's system to fight a fire of major proportions. They urge all residents to be especially careful of fire and to take absolutely no chance whatever in burning trash and waste paper. As a possible aid, firemen have dredged a series of holes in Georges Creek, where they can drop a hose to pump water from the creek in case of a fire in the downtown area. This supply, however is also limited.

The town council, which includes besides Mayor Hoffa, Councilmen Maurice B. Lamberson, Patrick Gallagher, Frank Williams and Jack Bradley, will discuss the situation at its regular meeting Wednesday evening.

Name Teacher For Special Class At Luke

WESTERNPORT — Mrs. Monica McParland of Lonaconing has been appointed teacher of the new class for severely retarded children which will be opened this term in two ground floor rooms of the Luke School, according to Miss M. Jean Camper, supervisor of special education in the Allegany County public schools.

The first such class in Allegany County started two years ago at LaVale Elementary School for children in the Cumberland area and a second began functioning a year ago at Lincoln School in Frostburg for that area.

Mrs. Evelyn Bland of Pekin will serve as the assistant teacher.

Mrs. Robert Ford, president of the local unit of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children, said that 14 children from the Georges Creek area between Lonaconing and Westernport as well as from Luke and McCoolle are eligible to attend the new class.

Last year a station wagon was purchased with funds donated by organizations and individuals. This accommodated only ten children and the matron. Some provision will have to be made for additional transportation.

The local unit of Friends Aware will meet Wednesday evening to make plans for providing transportation and to discuss other problems.

County school officials hope to have the two Luke rooms ready for the class by Monday, September 23.

Dr. C. A. Ryan Dies At Home

PIEDMONT — Dr. Christopher A. Ryan, who had practiced dentistry here since 1919, died yesterday at his home on Ashfield Street. He had been in ill health since May.

A lifelong resident of Piedmont, Dr. Ryan was a son of the late John J. and Ella (Ryan) Ryan.

Dr. Ryan graduated from St. Peter's High School, Westernport, and attended Potomac State College at Keyser. He graduated from St. Joseph's College in Baltimore before receiving his degree from the University of Maryland's Dental School.

He was an active member of the Potomac Valley Dental Society and served several terms as secretary of that society. Dr. Ryan served in World War I and was a member of Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion.

He also was a member of Piedmont Council 635, Knights of Columbus; Chief Justice, Tanya General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus; St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, and a member of the Holy Name Society of that parish.

Survivors include three sisters, Misses Mary and Katie Ryan, with whom he resided, and Mrs. James A. Welsh, Westernport, and a brother, John T. Ryan, Millvale, Pa.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Peter's Church by Rev. George Pugh, assistant pastor. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

The body is at the Fredlock Funeral Home where the rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Groups Selected For Card Party By GOP Women

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Ralph M. Race and Mrs. James F. Shryock were named co-chairmen of the committee on arrangements for a card party being sponsored by the Women's Republican Club, October 2 in the American Legion home.

Miss Estelle Williams was made candy chairman; Mrs. J. Carter Shryock, while elephant chairman; Mrs. Perry Myers, tallies and score cards.

The refreshment committee includes Mrs. Grant Durst, chairman; Mrs. John Ives, Mrs. George Hale, Mrs. Robert Glotfelty, tickets, Miss Emma Simons, chairman, Mrs. Cora Stewart, Mrs. Noel S. Cook, Mrs. E. B. VanFossen, Mrs. George Jeffries, Mrs. Walter Jeffries, Mrs. Charles Cole, Mrs. Harry Shupe, Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. Raymond Hanna, Mrs. Ralph Race, Mrs. James Shrock and Miss Katherine Close.

The table committee is composed of Mrs. David Dorman, chairman, Mrs. Allen Hager, Mrs. William Lemmert, Mrs. Mabel Stevens, Miss Mary Evans and Mrs. Louise Spates; prizes, Mrs. Walter Jeffries and Mrs. Homer Griffith.

Hostesses will be: 500, Miss Esther Carter and Miss Jane

FORESTRY CAMP PRINCIPALS—R. L. Hamilton, of Westernport, (left), contractor who is erecting buildings at the Big Savage Mountain Boys' Forestry Camp, confers with D. L. Curran (center), field superintendent of the Maryland State Department of Public Welfare, regarding the project. Looking on is Ralph Swauger, director of the camp. Heavy laundry equipment is shown in the background. The camp will be ready for occupancy about October 1. Work began July 25.

Piedmont Legion Plans To Build New Post-Home

PIEDMONT — Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion, plans to build a new home, according to Frank Price, commander.

Price, who succeeds William Hood, is stressing two projects, membership and the new home.

Newly elected officers were installed Friday night by Sam W. Widmer, finance officer and a past commander of the post, assisted by Courtney Pratt, Moorefield, Tenth District commander. Officers included Orvel Kazlo, first vice commander; Carl Bosley, second vice commander; J. W. Hicks, adjutant; T. J. Martin, service officer; Glenn Boyd, historian; Dr. Robert W. Hess, Americanism officer; Wilbur Waggoner, chaplain, and Thomas Footen, sergeant-at-arms.

Price revealed the post has 150 members for 1958. The quota is 516.

Edward Bill, adjutant of Moorefield post, was a guest. A buffet luncheon was served after the installation.

Shower Fetes Bride To Be

MT. SAVAGE — Miss Doris Weimer entertained recently at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Brannon, with a surprise bridal shower honoring Miss Mary Ann Powers, Miss Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Powers, will become the bride of Paul Creagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Creagan, Cumberland, in October. The ceremony will be performed in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Cumberland.

The house was decorated with white gladioli and a large bridal cake centered the refreshment table. Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Stanley Weimer, Mrs. Nancy Wakefoose, Miss Mary Agnes McGann and Miss Janet Stegmaier.

Present were Mrs. Leo Powers, Mrs. Jerome Creagan, Mrs. Mary Louise Zembower, Mrs. Nancy Wakefoose, Mrs. Stanley Weimer, Miss Janet Stegmaier, Cumberland; Mrs. Mary Yantz, Mrs. Alma Rupp, Mrs. William Yantz, Mrs. Ann Ferguson, and Mrs. Harry Brannon, Mt. Savage; Mrs. Stanley Weimer, Miss Helen Weimer and Miss Doris Weimer, Lonaconing.

Scouts To Set Plans For Future Activities

PIEDMONT — Members of Boy Scout Troop 33 will make plans for their fall and winter schedule today at 6 p. m. at a meeting at Trinity Methodist Church, according to Richard Householder, assistant scoutmaster.

Nineteen boys took part in the camp held recently at Deep Creek Lake. Swimming contests and handicraft featured the outing.

Scouts who will attend today's meeting are requested to be in uniform.

Home From Hospital

PIEDMONT — Gary J. Lannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lannon, has returned from Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where he was admitted for treatment of facial burns suffered when he was splashed with hot lead.

Griddle; canasta, Mrs. Ruth Cook; bridge, Mrs. Cora Stewart and Mrs. Harry Shupe; door, Miss Emma Simons and Mrs. Louise Spates.

Industrial Promotion Group Plans Final Meeting Today

FROSTBURG — The final meeting of the Frostburg Industrial Promotion Group, which is promoting the drive for pledges to construct an undergarment factory here, will be held in the City Hall today at 7:30 p. m.

At the last meeting of the group, it was reported that $37,300 had been pledged. Since that time, an additional $800 has been subscribed, to bring the total subscription to date to $38,100.

This amount, in addition to the $10,000 pledged by the management of the undergarment factory, puts the drive far above the halfway point now.

A number of Frostburg businessmen have volunteered to appear before the service clubs, fraternal and civic organizations this week in an endeavor to secure added pledges and support for the drive as it goes into its final stages.

Robert Hohing will address the Frostburg Lions Club; Charles Hill, Frostburg Rotary Club, and Mayor Joseph James will explain the project in detail to Frostburg Lodge 470, BPO Elks.

The management of the undergarment factory has set September 19 as the deadline for a decision from the industrial promotion group.

They have stated that another nearby community is interested in having the factory located in their city, and for that reason it is imperative that a decision be reached by the Frostburg group on that date.

Brief Mention

State Publicizes Moorefield Area In DES Article

MOOREFIELD — The July issue of the Employment and Industrial Review, a state publication issued by the West Virginia Department of Employment Security with a circulation of approximately 20,000, featured Moorefield and the South Branch Valley in the lead article.

The first seven pages of the magazine depicted aerial views of the Town of Moorefield, showed pictures of both the Presbyterian and the Methodist churches, a view of the South Branch Stockyards, of Moorefield High School, of the Rockingham-Poultry Process plant, of the plywood plant and of the sign of the Moorefield Lions Club erected on Route 50.

The only registration for music students will be conducted Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon in the Administration Building.

The formal opening of the college took place yesterday with exercises in the college gymnasium. A near-capacity crowd attended.

Fire Drills Planned

WESTERNPORT — Members of Potomac Fire Company will meet at 6:30 p. m. each Tuesday on the grounds of the former Bruce High School for fire drill.

A spring made from the same material as a watch mainspring may prolong the lives of people suffering from heart damage involving the mitral valve by strengthening the valve action.

How To Deal With Asiatic Flu

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—You'd better become a snob if you don't want to get bitten by the Asiatic Flu bug. You may be forced to give up that miracle diet even if it means you won't be able to squeeze into your winter clothes.

And if you're in love, just develop a romantic handshake and give up kissing for "the duration."

This is the price you'll have to pay if you follow advice the Public Health Service is about to distribute on how to fight influenza.

The easy-to-follow set of rules has been prepared to help reduce the number of victims if Asiatic Flu strikes this country in epidemic proportions and NEA is

If you get out of bed, put on a warm robe and slippers. Eat simple foods that agree with you. Stay in bed until your doctor decides the chances of your catching pneumonia have passed. If you're taking care of someone in your family who has been stricken by Asiatic Flu, follow these simple rules:

Keep his dishes away from those used by the rest of the family. Make sure he covers his sneezes and coughs with tissues. Have him deposit the tissues in a paper bag and replace the bags frequently. Wash your hands several times a day, especially before preparing food.

Physicians stress that you should not take antibiotics until your doctor gives his okay. These drugs are used to combat other infections that might follow on the heels of Asiatic Flu and have no effect on the virus itself. Doctors believe these additional complications are what killed four Asiatic Flu victims in the United States. The PHS is bracing itself for more deaths. But medical experts explain that additional fatalities will not mean anybody's guess, "one PHS doc-picking up strength. Especially vulnerable targets in the expected small death rate will be elderly people whose resistance is lowered against respiratory diseases. The PHS doesn't look for the virus to increase its potency. And even if it does, doctors say there's no reason to believe the COVER those sneezes—fast.

If an epidemic hits, health officials believe it will strike during the fall or winter months. Already between 20,000 and 25,000 people in the United States have contracted the disease. Whether or not it could sweep the country before cooler weather sets in "is anybody's guess," one PHS doc-

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Mother of three wonders if she should complete nurse's training.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband, a minister, and I were married during my second year of nurse's training. Our original plan was for me to become a registered nurse, looking towards a future in the mission field. Missionaries' wives have to be technically trained to serve along some line—teaching, nursing, etc.

However, the arrival of our first child two now have three modified these plans, and I left training 11 months short of my degree. We have an extremely happy life together, but my husband still feels that we must respond to a call from the mission field and I want to uphold him in this.

I love nursing, missed it greatly when I left, and have had a lifelong desire to work in the field of medicine. Also I want to qualify for Christian service abroad. In brief, I would like very much to finish nurse's training, plus one more semester—to qualify for a degree in nursing education. This I could put to excellent use in the mission field, or here in the states.

Husband Hopes To Be Missionary

Unfortunately this year of training would necessitate my absence from the children. The eldest is now three years of age; the second, 15 months; and the baby is four months old. The hospital is 12 miles distant and I could be home only one day a week, plus occasional weekends. My mother would willingly care for the children during hours when my husband is occupied with church duties.

The separation would be terrifically hard on me, even though I know they would be in good hands. I think perhaps I should place their welfare above my own desire to finish nurse's training. I have long felt that a woman with a career is bound to neglect in some way her family, no matter how dearly she loves them.

My husband several years my senior, is understandably anxious to know whether he should continue to look towards service abroad or whether he should content himself here. Since wives of missionaries must be technically qualified, as I've said, my decision will largely decide our future. I hope your insight will shed new light on our situation.—K. Y.

STAY in bed and keep warm. If you've got a cold, start snubbing even your best friends. Stay home and don't answer the doorbell. The PHS warns that callers may bring in new germs. Shun anyone who doesn't use a handkerchief. During a flu epidemie, the germs he sprays make him a menace. If you're existing on cottage cheese to trim down an embarrassing wasteline, you better risk gaining a few pounds. PHS doctors advise regular well-balanced meals plus plenty of rest. Romance is taboo. The Asiatic Flu bug flourishes in the nose and mouth. So when your girl friend snuggles up close, play it tough like those hard-to-get Hollywood movie heroes. But if you become the most antisocial person in town and still catch the flu, here's what to do: Go to bed as soon as symptoms start. Call your doctor. Keep warm and stay away from drafts.

Land Week Committee Makes Plans

A six-member committee to plan for the observance of Maryland Land Week from October 6 through October 12 met this afternoon at the office of Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, in the Court House.

The session was called by Floyd Buser, chairman. On the committee are Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Short Gap; Kenneth Malcolm, Westernport; Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, 27 Humbird Street; Mrs. Marshall Porter and George Walters, both of Eckhart; and Mrs. A. R. Shafer, Little Orleans.

Buser said that this year it is planned to have a more general observance of Land Week without pin-pointing the program to soil and water conservation. He said the group will decide on the best method to create a better understanding of the interdependence of soil, forests, water and wildlife and the need for their wise use and development for their aesthetic and economic values.

Motion pictures and literature will be made available to the local group for use in programs before various clubs and fraternal groups as well as in the schools of the county.

The membership of the committee includes persons interested in various phases of conservation. Mrs. Miller is active in the Allegany County Bird Club and the Red Cross water safety program, Malcolm is a member of the Allegany County Board of Education, Rev. Mr. Grove is interested in boys work, Mrs. Porter is a member of the Associated Women of the Farm Bureau and Mrs. Shafer is active in the Farmers Grange.

New "Flying A" Super Extra Gasoline

SUPER POWER (over 100-octane)

EXTRA SAVINGS (lower price)

Up to now only small quantities of 100-octane gasoline have been available, and always at a "scarcity price." But now, with "Flying A's" new $200,000,000 refinery in full production, gasoline of over 100-octane is widely available—at a lower price! A real achievement in refining—a real break for you as a motorist.

OVER 100-OCTANE!

"FLYING A"...THE QUALITY SYMBOL REPLACING TYPOL

NEW "FLYING A" REFINERY is the world's first and only refinery specially designed to produce higher-octane fuels for the high-compression cars of today and tomorrow. Its new Super Extra gasoline is so advanced you needn't buy additives to keep your engine's full power. Through extensive de-sulfurization, impurities are removed at refinery instead of in your car!
